PRESIDENT SAYS UNEMPLOYMENT IS NOW ON WANE

60 Days Will See Last of Hangover From Stock
Debacle of Last Fall,
Says Executive.

FEWER JOBLESS
THAN IN 1921

Official Statement
Stresses General Success of Stabilization Program Started by Government.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(AP)—American business and industry is now recovering from the shock administered by the stock market collapse last fall, President Hoover believes, and within 60 days it should be free from the distressing aftermath of unemployment which it brought.

He announced the conclusion today after a study of commerce and labor department reports bearing on the situation, and a review of the results being attained by co-operation of the heads of national enterprises whom he convened in Washington last December to consider possibilities of business stimulus.

Distress in 12 States.
Summarizing his conclusions for newspaper correspondents, the president said that unemployment "amounting to distress" had been confined to 12 states, and was not more than seasonal in the other 36 states.

Low points of business and employment had been passed in December and in early January, he added, and had been followed by slow betterment. With maintenance of wage rates, with lower interest rates, and with larger capital betterment expenditures by railroads, utilities and business generally, he said he looked for the advance of spring to restore normal prosperity.

The president made his statement after conferring with Secretaries Lamont and Davis. The text was: "The departments of commerce and labor are engaged in the usual monthly survey of business and unemployment and especially of the results obtained from the measures which have been in progress since the last of November, to reduce unemployment and the hardships following the dislocation from the stock exchange crash. The survey is not as yet complete. There are, however, certain conclusions that are evident.

In Twelve States.
"Unemployment amounting to distress is in the main concentrated in 12 states. The authorities in the remaining 36 states indicate only normal seasonal unemployment or that the minor abnormal unemployment is being rapidly absorbed.

The low point of business and unemployment was the latter part of December and early January. Since that time employment has been slowly increasing and the situation is much better today than at that time.

Nation-wide response to the request for increased construction and improvement work by public authorities, railroads, utilities, and industries is having a most material effect. Construction contracts in these categories in January and February were from 40 per cent to 45 per cent higher than ever known in those months. The

Cheap Drunk Paralyzes 300 in Oklahoma City

JAMAICA GINGER CONCOCTION BELIEVED CAUSE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., March 7.—(UN)—Drinks of poison "Jake," popular low-priced intoxicant, affected more than 300 persons here tonight with a mysterious malady that paralyzed the victims.

More than 250 persons were stricken at their homes where they frantically sought advice from physicians who could promise them no relief. At least 50 more were in hospitals and clinics where experts attempted to diagnose the cases and determine whether the malady would be fatal.

No deaths had occurred, although physicians reported many victims who had noted only slight muscular twitches early today rapidly were becoming paralyzed.

All the victims told authorities the illness followed drinking of Jamaica ginger distributed by bootleggers and "blind pig" drug stores.

A federal ban was placed on shipments of Jamaica ginger from Kansas City and St. Louis warehouses late today. Authorities said the ban would exist until specialists are able to determine the cause of the affliction.

William Hartigan, chief of the United States food and drug station at Kansas City, placed Inspector T. Benjamin in charge of the investigation.

"Unless the malady is halted within 24 hours I shall send nationally known specialists to Oklahoma City," Hartigan said.

"The wholesale paralysis is the worst thing our department has ever experienced," Benjamin said. "Several deaths overnight would not surprise me."

Meanwhile federal and city authorities tested samples of Jamaica ginger from drug stores and liquor taken in raids in an effort to determine the source of poison.

The condition of the victims was pathetic. Most of them were men who live in the south part of the city, where the oil field workers and laborers live.

They were frightened, as physicians had told some of them they might not recover, and they readily told their stories to authorities, describing when they drank the liquor and where it was obtained.

The malady affected the feet of the victims first. They complained of muscular twitches. Then their legs began to ache. Soon the paralysis had spread to their hands. Many could not raise their hands to their faces. Others were on their backs, unable to move.

"Jake" is obtained easily here. It is sold in small eight-ounce bottles at some drug stores for 50 cents. Some "joints" sell it for 25 cents a drink over the bar in the oil field residence section. It is said 20 places dispense "Jake" within one block. One or two bottles will result in intoxication.

GRUNDY DEFENDS USE OF EXPERTS ON TARIFF SCALE

Probe Reveals Many Senators Employ Statisticians To Compile Data on Both Sides.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(AP)—Joining in a general debate centering about his employment of Warren F. Doane, of Philadelphia, to aid him in research work on the tariff, Senator Grundy, republican, Pennsylvania, told the senate tonight he had no "apologies whatever to make for the relationship or the manner in which his services are being performed."

The Pennsylvania, an advocate of high protective duties whose tariff activities have been investigated by the senate lobby committee, asserted that if there were more men like Doane he could get he "certainly would want to have those men here."

The debate was started by Senator Blaine, republican, Wisconsin, a member of the lobby committee, who discussed testimony before that committee today by Doane.

Blaine said that Doane was performing the same work for Grundy now that he did before the Pennsylvania became a member of the senate and that the records and files of Grundy's downtown office had been moved to the senate office building.

"One of Brightest Minds." In his testimony before the lobby committee today, Doane said he had been employed by Grundy at $500 a month for six or seven years and that he used an office in the senate office building assigned to Grundy for work that he did at the capitol.

Discussing this testimony, Grundy described Doane as "one of the brightest minds in the economic field connected with the tariff that I know of" and asserted that the only reason "he is not in the offices which I occupy in the senate office building is because there is no room there for the clerical work that he had to do."

Questioned about Doane's testimony that he used a desk and typewriter in an office assigned to Grundy, the senator replied:

"I take it he has the use of it when he stops in there to do any work. There are a number of desks there and typewriters and I have no doubt he has the use of any of them."

Wrote Goff's Speech. Arthur J. Fausel, secretary of the American Tariff League, denied today before the lobby committee that he had used Grundy's office as headquarters but said he had prepared notes for a speech which Senator Goff, republican, West Virginia, delivered in the senate last Saturday.

After Blaine had mentioned this testimony, Goff gained the floor and asserted that "no one prepared all the data used in that speech."

Goff explained that the "only preparation" by Fausel was "the looking up of certain statistics and the corroboration of certain facts."

The West Virginia accused the lobby committee of being "unfair and ungenerous" in not reporting to the senate testimony if he had received from Eugene R. Pickrell, of New York, that he had furnished data to Senators La Follette, republican, Wisconsin, and King, democrat, Utah.

La Follette explained that the data supplied him was a "factual statement of imports and exports and was not used in my speech except as I used the statistical information contained in it."

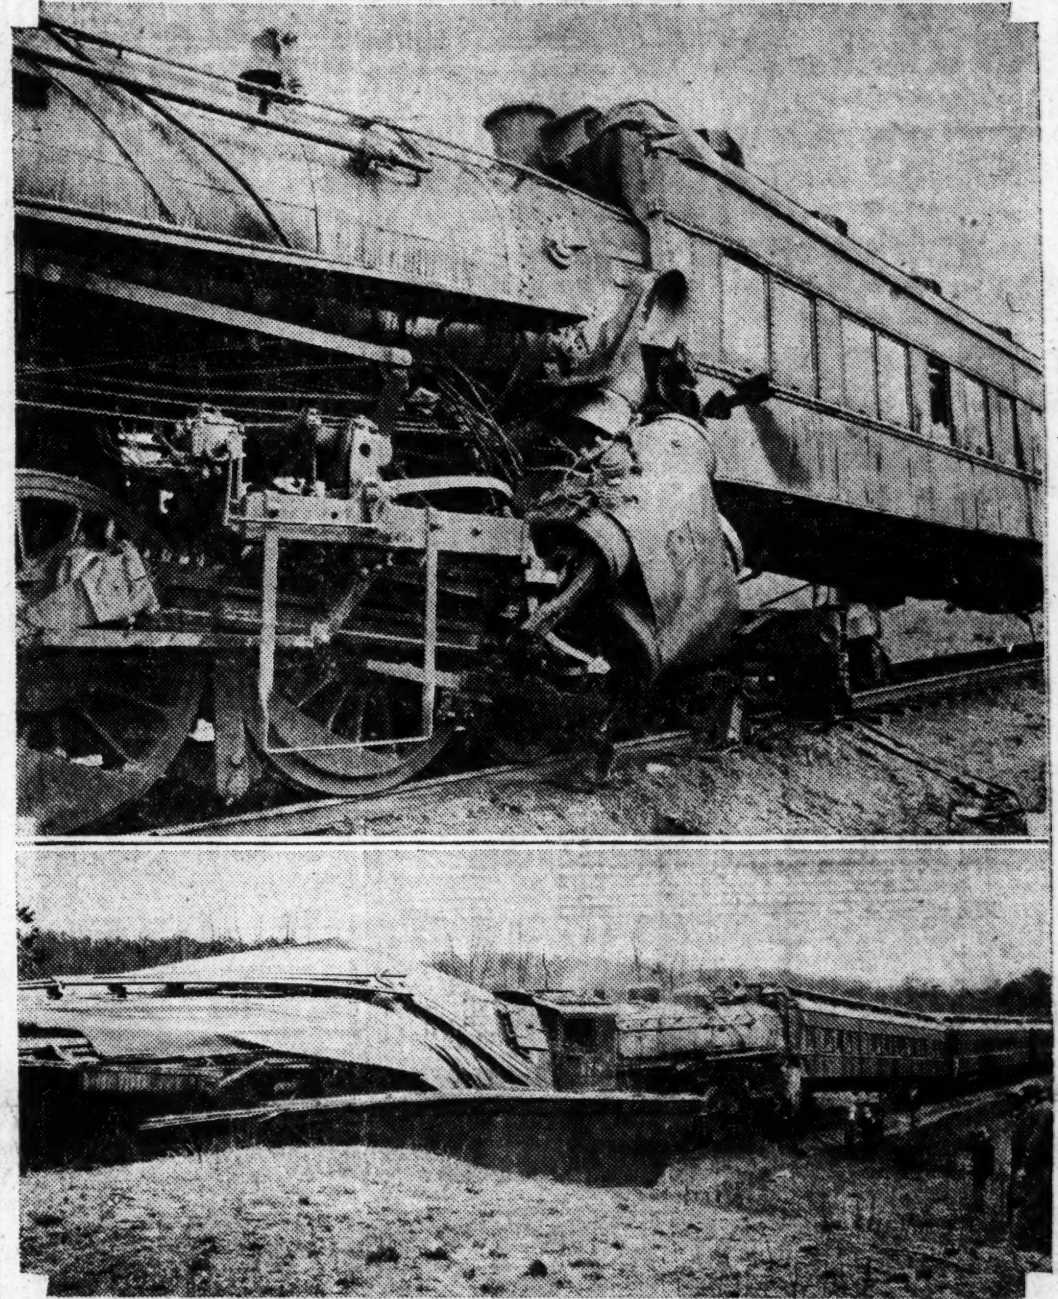

Asserting that in the "whole tariff bill there has been the unseen and unclean hands of special interests," Blaine said there had been "fully developed" that there had been an organized "under fund" by special interests whereby they prepared to drive high rates on oil, sugar, lumber, plate glass and cement.

"No one dares to dispute that a deal was made to trade oil for sugar and sugar for oil," he shouted. "I have no doubt but that this unseen hand of the cement interests was in that deal."

He spoke soon after a vote on cement had been taken in the senate. Blaine said an "unholy combination" had been formed to drive high rates through this bill by steam roller methods and asserted that the American Tariff League, the Southern Tariff Association and the American Tariff League and certain so-called farm organizations in Washington had been a part of the combination.

League news bureau moved to the senate office building, he said. Blaine emphasized that he was speaking for himself only and not for the lobby committee.

Flagman Killed, 31 Injured in Crash Of Seminole Trains Near Columbus

Photos show wreckage at Glen Alta, Ga., of two sections of the Seminole Limited of the Central of Georgia railway, in which one person was killed and 31 injured. The accident occurred early Friday. Arrow in top photo points to spot where G. C. White, of Phenix City, Ala., flagman, was crushed to death. He was standing on the rear of the observation car.

Buyer Not Guilty Under Volstead Act

BOSTON, March 7.—(UN)—An appeal to the United States supreme court will be filed tomorrow to upset the decision made today by Federal Judge James M. Morton, Jr., that the purchaser of liquor commits no criminal offense under the national prohibition act, Assistant United States Attorney Elihu D. Stone announced tonight.

Stone prosecuted the case against James E. Farrer, of Watertown, indicted by a federal grand jury on February 7 on a charge of purchasing liquor for beverage purposes. Today Judge Morton handed down an opinion sustaining Farrer's motion to quash the indictment against him.

The case, involving the purchase of two pints of liquor by Farrer, a street railway employee, from Frank Rotondo, of Medford, in the latter's Cambridge store, is considered the first test case of its kind under prohibition.

All of the injured were brought here on the first section of the train which proceeded after the two derailed cars had been restored and on a relief train sent out from here.

Mrs. L. G. Morrison, 53, of Marion, Ill., who suffered probable internal injuries, and Mrs. August School, of Waterloo, Iowa, suffering from shock, were the most seriously injured. Mrs. Morrison's husband, L. G. Morrison, was injured slightly.

Many of those brought here received treatment and left the hospital. Out of the 31, 14 suffered injuries to the ankle, one of them a fractured ankle. The majority suffered only bruises and small cuts.

Railway officials had not ascertained the cause of the crash, but reports received here said the first section of the train, an all-pullman train, had stopped to remove a signal fuse placed on the track by a section man, and that the second section, a special express train of Florida perishables, crashed into it before a flagman could be sent back.

Poor Visibility. Railroad men said the second section must have been making good time to have struck the other train with force enough to telescope the observation car, which was made of steel.

Poor visibility due to a steady rain that fell over this section throughout last night was also believed to have been a contributing factor.

The right of way was cleared late today and normal traffic restored. During the time that the track was being cleared, firemen were seeking to check the flames.

Special Express Plows Into Rear End of First Section, Halted at Glen Alta.

COLUMBUS, Ga., March 7.—(AP)—A special express section of the north-bound Seminole Limited of the Central of Georgia railway, speeding through murky weather early today, crashed into the rear end of the first section of the train halted at Glen Alta, 25 miles south of here, killing a flagman and causing injury to 31 passengers.

O. C. White, of Phenix City, Ala., the flagman, was buried beneath the wreckage of the observation car of the first section of the train, and passengers in two pullmans which were derailed were severely shaken and bruised.

All of the injured were brought here on the first section of the train which proceeded after the two derailed cars had been restored and on a relief train sent out from here.

Mrs. L. G. Morrison, 53, of Marion, Ill., who suffered probable internal injuries, and Mrs. August School, of Waterloo, Iowa, suffering from shock, were the most seriously injured. Mrs. Morrison's husband, L. G. Morrison, was injured slightly.

Taft Improving, Physicians State

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(AP)—A continued improvement was noted today in the condition of William Howard Taft.

His physicians, after their usual morning call at the home of the former chief justice, issued a bulletin saying he "seems a little better this morning, but the change in his condition from day to day is almost negligible." Drs. Francis R. Hagner and William A. Clayton signed the bulletin.

Heartened by the gains their patient had made, they have discontinued their frequent calls at his home and make but two calls daily. The evening report was that Mr. Taft was unchanged from his improved condition of the morning.

All Futures Drop Past 15-Cent Mark

NEW YORK, March 7.—(AP)—All cotton future contracts on the New York Cotton Exchange sold below 15 cents a pound for the first time since last year today when prices again broke $1.50 to $2.75 a bale in reflection of an increasingly disappointing trade situation.

Early in the day the market was slightly steadier on reports from Liverpool that some foreign mills were beginning their inquiries for new crop cotton. The rally failed to hold and by early afternoon liquidation was resumed in large volume with little resistance offered. Some trade buying and "covering" checked the decline towards the close.

Cotton for March delivery here sold within 5 points of the 14-cent-per-pound mark.

Earthquake Rocks
Panama Canal Zone

COLON, Panama, March 7.—(AP)—The isthmus of Panama was shaken at 10:40 o'clock tonight by an earthquake lasting 45 seconds. It was the worst tremor since 1914.

Sleepers in frame houses were thrown into a panic as their beds moved. Early reports were that there was no damage. Officials did not expect the tremor to affect the canal.

TRIO OF OFFICIALS SEEK TO RETIRE PENDING TRIALS

Petitions Are Filed by Alderman and Two
Councilmen With Mayor
I. N. Ragsdale.

EVERETT MILLICAN
TO DEMAND PROBE

Alderman Says He Will
Reintroduce Paper Asking
That Special Committee Investigate.

Three council members, indicted last Saturday by Fulton county grand jury in its probe of alleged corruption and graft in municipal offices, Friday petitioned Mayor I. N. Ragsdale and general council for leaves of absence from their official duties until such time as their cases are disposed of.

Dr. J. E. Turner, alderman from the second ward, and Councilman Harry York, of the sixth, and William E. Saunders, of the twelfth, were the officials asking for the leaves. They filed their petitions with the mayor, and they will be submitted along with others which are expected to follow by the next regular meeting of council slated for March 17.

The move, it is believed, will balk a contemplated proposal to force the half a dozen council members and the two department heads to relinquish their positions pending outcome of their trials, and will pave the way for harmony in the next session of council.

Mr. Ragsdale's decision to submit the petition to those accused by the grand jury followed a conference with Councilman Wiley J. Moore, of the seventh ward, and chairman of the finance committee of council.

Councilman Moore Monday fought the Millican paper providing for a councilmanic committee to investigate those under indictment, but suggested the leave absence plan.

"I fought that paper because I feared it would be misunderstood and also because I felt it might hamper the grand jury in its continued probe of city hall affairs," Mr. Moore said. "I feel that those under indictment should retire until their cases are tried, rather than wait for the council to take action to vote them out."

"Several of my close friends asked me what action would be best, and I finally thought that the leave of absence plan would work to the best interests of all concerned."

"Retirement until the trials are over is not an admission of guilt, but it is rather a gesture in the right direction. If any member of council or any official of the government is convicted, there is no doubt but that council will take action against that person. The leave of absence plan is fair to the men under indictment and also to citizens and taxpayers."

"I would not want to work an injustice on any official, but I do feel that those under indictment should retire until their cases are tried, rather than wait for the council to take action to vote them out."

jury next week will investigate the automobile collision late yesterday in which John W. Forrester, manager of a local paint store, was killed, it was announced today by county authorities.

Forrester was killed when his automobile was struck by a car driven by Pell Pendergrass, negro. Henry M. Davidson, of Greenville, Forrester's companion, was injured and the negro suffered several broken ribs.

Pendergrass has been placed under arrest and is in the Greenville county jail, pending the outcome of the grand jury investigation. Forrester and his wife came to Greenville from Atlanta nine months ago and have been prominently identified here with the religious and social life of the city. He is survived by his widow, a daughter, Miss Eva Brown Forrester, of Greenville, and a son and daughter by a former marriage, Henry Forrester, of Atlanta, and Miss Nedra Forrester, of Greenville.

Oglesby To Speak To Business Women

An address by Dr. Stuart B. Oglesby, new pastor of Central Presbyterian church, will feature the March meeting of the Business Women's League of Second Baptist church, to be held at 5:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Second Baptist Sunday school room.

Mrs. F. J. Paxon, president of the league, announced that Mrs. W. S. Harlan, chairman, and Mrs. Annie Harwell, co-chairman of Circle C, will have charge of the meeting. The program will include music arranged by Solon Drukenmiller, of the Second Baptist church choir.

Dr. Oglesby this Sunday completes his first month as pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, located in the same block with the Second Baptist, and the league meeting for Sunday afternoon was said to be in the nature of a welcome to him from the neighboring church group.

Wife Is Convicted For Attack on Girl

CLARKSDALE, Miss., March 7.—(AP)—Mrs. K. A. Carney, wife of a Clarksdale attorney, was found guilty late today by a Coahoma county jury of simple assault for a beating given her husband's stenographer, Miss Mae Ross, which sent the young woman to a hospital for treatment for a broken nose.

Tonight Mrs. Carney was under sentence to serve 90 days in jail and pay a fine of $500, but the carrying out of the sentence was in abeyance pending consideration of a motion for a new trial immediately after sentence was imposed. She was released on $1,000 bond.

Atlanta Gets $1,600 From Steel Salvage

Atlanta will be about $1,600 richer within the next few weeks if council, at its next regular session Monday, March 17, accepts a recommendation of the bridge committee of council.

Mayor I. N. Ragdale is responsible for the saving. That body Friday afternoon recommended acceptance of a bid of the Knight-Luttrell Iron Company for salvage of the steel in the northern spans of the Forsyth street viaduct, which is to be rebuilt. The company will pay $7.65 a ton for the 2,000 tons the structure contains. When the N. C. & St. L. railway several weeks ago asked permission to wreck the northern spans of the structure, they asked for the steel as compensation for the work of wrecking the bridge. Mr. Ragdale demurred, and contended that the borough had a right to the price the steel would bring. Finally he succeeded in obtaining an agreement whereby the borough would get the profit over the cost of wrecking. Bids Friday disclosed that the borough is to receive about $1,600 from the deal.

General Williams Will Quit Army

Major General C. C. Williams, native Georgian, will retire voluntarily from the United States army after April 1, it was learned Friday from Washington official sources. Major General Williams, who is at present army chief of ordnance with offices in Washington, has been in the service for 30 years. He was born in White County and graduated from West Point in 1894. He is known as one of the leading experts on powder in the American army.

Five Persons Suffer From Gas Effects

Five persons were recovering Friday night from the effects of gas fumes which originated in a defective water heater in which a forgotten flame had been burning for several hours, at the home of Mrs. W. W. Reese, 1509 McLendon avenue, Thursday night. All were overcome by the fumes. Shortly before midnight Mrs. W. W. Copeland and a party of friends visited the home of Mrs. Reese. Mrs. Copeland suddenly collapsed in a chair and before a physician could arrive the gas also had affected Miss Vera Copeland, Miss Eleanor Hicks, Mrs. Reese and Mrs. C. A. Kracht, a neighbor. The physician revived them all, and though confined to their beds Friday night all were reported to be resting well.

Bandits Shoot Two, Escape With $6,500

UTICA, N. Y., March 7.—(AP)—Two holdup men shot Morton E. Nettleton, paymaster, and Charles E. Whitney, watchman, and escaped with a payroll of $6,500 at the Foster Spring Bed Company here this afternoon. Neither Nettleton nor Whitney was given a chance by the robbers. The two were confronted by the robbers as they stepped out of the car in which they had brought the money from the First Bank and Trust Company to the factory. The robbers started shooting at once.

After seizing the bag containing the funds they leaped into a waiting automobile and escaped. Nettleton was shot through the chest and Whitney over the heart. Both were hurried to a hospital.

You Save Money When You Use Morning Joy Coffee

The average coffee on the market gives about 40 cups to the pound. From many tests, repeated time and again, it has been found that Morning Joy Coffee gives 50 cups to the pound—the coffee when made being of the same strength. In other words, a can of Morning Joy Coffee makes 25% more coffee of the same strength than does a can of other brands. The reason is that Morning Joy Coffee is packed in a vacuum can which is air-tight and which holds indefinitely all of the original qualities of the coffee.

Aroma—Flavor—Strength

All come to you in your cup of coffee when it is made from Morning Joy. Although costing a few cents a pound more, it is cheaper in the long run than ordinary brands. It is really the economical coffee to use because it gives more cups to the pound—you use less. And above all, when you use Morning Joy you get a delightful blend which affords joy in every drink. Order Morning Joy from your grocer. It costs less per cup.

NAVY RECONSIDERS
AS WILLIAMS QUILTSSpeed Ace, Ordered to Sea, Resigns—Then Navy Re-vokes Order.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(AP)—Lieutenant Alford J. Williams, navy racing pilot, today submitted his resignation from the service to build an airplane "which will recover the world's aviation speed record for the United States."

Orders for sea duty, which were to become effective tomorrow for three years, were revoked by navy officials pending action on the resignation, which was placed in the hands of Admiral Richard Leigh, acting chief of operations.

Acceptance of the resignation would terminate 13 years of military service, during which Williams won a one-man record of achievement in naval aviation matched only by that of Lieutenant James Doolittle in air corps history. Doolittle, a crack army flyer, resigned recently from that branch of the service.

Williams earned international recognition as a navy test and racing pilot and for his almost lone-handed battle to carry on high speed racing in America after the United States government withdrew from Schneider trophy competition.

He is holder of the American airplane speed record with a mark of 290 miles an hour, and won the Distinguished Flying Cross for outstanding research in inverted flight and violent maneuvers by which he added new stunts to military tactics and solved problems of control that before had cost many lives.

Leader in Church
Jailed for Liquor

LANSING, Mich., March 7.—(AP)—Mrs. Beatrice French, 35, who until recently was president of a church ladies' aid society, today pleaded guilty in circuit court here to a charge of possessing liquor. She was sentenced to serve a term of nine months to two years in the Detroit house of correction.

U. S. Vienna Attache
Visits Atlanta Today

John A. Embry, assistant United States commercial attache at Vienna, will arrive this morning en route to Washington, for the purpose of conferring with local business men interested in trade with Austria. He will make his headquarters at the local offices of the federal department of commerce in the postoffice building.

While in Atlanta Mr. Embry will be entertained by Robert Hecht, president of the International Corporation, dealers in cotton waste and flinters with extensive interests in Austria and other European countries. Mr. Hecht is also president of the Atlanta Foreign Trade and commissioner for the Central Association for Foreign Trade of Vienna.

Local firms interested in contacting with Mr. Embry may arrange appointments by calling the district office at Walnut 5049.

AMERICAN BEAUTIES
READY FOR PAGEANT

MIAMI, Fla., March 7.—(AP)—Beauties of three Americas gathered here tonight to receive the plaudits of metropolitan Miami in the first formal event of the first annual international Miami beauty pageant.

The occasion was a ball at the Coral Gables Country Club, at which 45 girls from various states of the Union and 10 from Latin American countries were guests of honor.

The North American girls arrived here by special train from Jacksonville, Fla., today to be greeted by civic and pageant officials and by their Latin American sisters, acclaimed the most beautiful girls of their countries to the south of Miami.

The ranks of the Latinas were swelled today with arrival of Miss Cuba aboard an early morning steamer.

A parade through the business streets of Miami, with the contesting beauties from the United States and the Latin American girls, who will not enter the beauty contest, marked the arrivals of the special train from the north. Later the group was entertained at a luncheon and spent the afternoon posing for photographers individually and in groups.

Tonight's program opened a four-day schedule that will be concluded Tuesday night with selection of "America's Sweetheart" from the ranks of the North American beauties.

A full schedule has been arranged for the girls during their visit here, with the non-contesting Latin Americans receiving equal honors and courtesy with the girls that are contesting for first prize in the contest. The representatives of the Central and South American countries have been here since Sunday morning.

Life-for-Pint Woman
Granted New Trial

LANSING, Mich., March 7.—(AP)—Ella Mae Miller, the first woman to be sentenced under Michigan's former life-for-liquor law, was granted a new trial by the state supreme court today. Her conviction for selling two pints of moonshine liquor was set aside because of errors in her lower court trial.

Mrs. Miller's case attracted nationwide attention when she was given a sentence of life imprisonment under the old criminal code which made the penalty mandatory for four liquor offenses. The statute has since been repealed.

Farms Flooded.

VERMILION, S. D., March 7.—(AP)—An ice gorge in the Missouri river, today was reported to have caused waters to inundate thousands of acres of farm lands. Families were moved to highlands. Several families were moved from their homes by boat. The flooded land was between Burbank and Vermillion.

COOK PAROLE APPROVED
BY ATTORNEY-GENERAL

"Arctic Explorer" Expected
To Gain Freedom
Today.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., March 7.—(UN)—All that stood between Dr. Frederick A. Cook in the federal penitentiary here and liberty tonight was the United States mails, the very thing that got him into prison April 6, 1925.

Telegraphic advice from Washington, D. C., said his parole had been granted, but that he must await release until the justice department certificate is received through the mails.

When prison doors swing open for

DR. FREDERICK COOK

Cook they will release a man who 20 years ago came from the arctic wilds with the word that he had "planted the Stars and Stripes on the north pole."

Inside the gray walls of the penitentiary Cook was a busy man gathering up his belongings, his clippings, books, copies of The New Era, prison magazine he has edited, and his unsold embroidery work. Since his entry, Cook has sold embroidery work to visitors.

He leaves the prison with the same zest that lent color to his exploits of the past.

Dr. Cook plans to write two books, his memoirs for which he said a publisher is waiting, and a second volume.

"The tone of the second book," Cook said, "would be such that I would not care to have it published under my name."

Officials said Cook would leave for Chicago, later going to Denver, where he would visit relatives.

While succoring sick prisoners in the penitentiary hospital, authorities said, Cook carefully guarded his health.

"My aim while I have been in Leavenworth," Cook explained, "is to keep my good health. When I am released I will be penniless and so I must look forward to making my own way. I have friends, many of them, to whom I will turn when I am free, but this only will be for a little while."

"I hardly believe I will go back to the arctic again, even though I should be well paid for leading an expedition."

Before he leaves Warden T. B. White's office, Cook will swear to a bankrupt's oath to escape a $12,000 fine imposed upon him with his sentence for using the mails to defraud in connection with a Texas oil promotion scheme.

He has rejected offers to write about his arctic trips while in the penitentiary, he said.

Cook said he had no manuscript ready to be submitted to publishers. "Did you ever try to write—even a letter—while in jail?" he asked. "Try it some time if you are ever there."

Negro Elks Lodge
Receivership Lost

A receivership of Gate City Lodge, No. 54, negro Elks, was discharged Friday by Judge Virlyn B. Moore, of Fulton superior court, in an order approving the final report of the receivers. The receivership was brought in a suit filed by Frank L. Jones, who claimed that he had been illegally ousted from the secretarship of the lodge. The suit was directed against Ben Davis, former national republican committeeman from Georgia, and other officers of the lodge.

NEGRO WHO STABBED
WHITE MAN SOUGHT

Police are seeking a negro, described on police records as "a light brown negro," who slipped away Friday night in a crowd that gathered at the scene of an accident at Old Wheat street and Jackson street, after stabbing R. B. Higgenbottom, of 843 Bankhead avenue, one of the principals in the crash.

Higgenbottom, a white man, was riding a motorcycle with a side car attached west on Old Wheat street. At the intersection of the street with Jackson street his vehicle collided with an automobile driven by H. J. Brazel, colored, of 945 Ashby terrace, who was driving north on Jackson. Neither the car nor the motorcycle was seriously damaged.

The two men were discussing the accident and a large crowd gathered around them. Then the negro whom police are now seeking is alleged to have stabbed Higgenbottom in the back and to have slipped back through the crowd before anyone realized what had happened. Higgenbottom was treated at Grady hospital and allowed to return to his home later, as his wound was a slight one, according to the report of Call Officers M. D. Cartwright and Arthur Dally, who investigated. No cause for the stabbing is known.

TOLEDO GIRL SEEKS
SISTER IN ATLANTA

Miss Minnie Kell, of 531 1-2 South Saint Clair street, Toledo, Ohio, is seeking her sister, Miss Lula Kell, who was last heard of in Atlanta about two years ago, as she wants to give her a home. It was stated in a letter to The Constitution Friday.

Miss Kell stated in the letter that she has not seen her sister for about five years, and that now she is situated so that she can give her an excellent home and is desirous of finding her. Her sister is described as being of light complexion, having grey eyes and black hair, about 5 feet 3 inches in height, weighing about 120 pounds and being 23 years old.

Beloved Court Justice
At 89th Milestone

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(AP)—The grand old man of American jurisprudence, Oliver Wendell Holmes tomorrow will celebrate his eighty-ninth birthday.

A veteran of the civil war on the Union side, three times wounded, the justice seemingly is in better health than for several years. He is constant in the discharge of his judicial duties, not having missed a session of the court during the present term, and being one of the court's most prolific members in the preparation and delivery of opinions.

For several weeks during the present term he was acting chief justice during the absence of Chief Justice Taft because of illness and following his resignation, before Chief Justice Hughes took a seat on the bench.

Eielson and Pal
End Final Flight

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, March 7.—(AP)—The last flight of Carl Ben Eielson and Earl Borland ended here today when Russian and American planes, escorting the bodies of the two aviators killed on the arctic coast of Siberia, circled over Fairbanks and landed in quick succession at the Alaska Airways field at 1:30 p. m. (3:30 p. m. P. C. T.).

Bodies of Fliers
Found in Plane

LOS ANGELES, March 7.—(AP)—The bodies of James E. Dole, 28, Western Air Express pilot, and his two companions in a tri-motored plane which disappeared 13 days ago while flying through a storm, were found late today in the wrecked transport in a San Bernardino mountain canyon.

A party of Western Air Express officials this afternoon arrived at the scene of the wreck which was located yesterday by Dudley Steele and Mrs. Juanita Burns, Los Angeles aviators.

The transport, which became lost in a storm after leaving Kingman, Ariz., the morning of February 23 for Los Angeles, had been the object of an extensive search. With Dole aboard the ship were A. W. Bieber, 20, co-pilot, and John W. Slaton, 35, steward.

Fred Goodell, official of the W. A. E., said the transport apparently had struck the top of a mountain but had not burned. The three bodies were in the cabin of the ship.

A new Biscuit—made of long ALL-BRAN shreds, delightfully flavored—a positive relief for constipation

YOU have a great treat in store the first time you try this new Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Biscuit. It is different! Long shreds, delicately toasted on both sides, crisp and crunchy!

A cereal you'll eat because of its great taste-appeal! And that you'll keep on eating because it is as healthful as it is good.

The habit of health

Millions have learned that eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the pleasant, sure way to prevent and to relieve the dangers of both temporary and recurring constipation. In the krumbled form, this cereal has brought health and happiness to untold thousands who suffered from constipation.

Now you can enjoy ALL-BRAN either way—as a krumbled cereal or in the new Biscuit. Both are equally effective.
Both guaranteed to relieve and prevent constipation or purchase price will be refunded.

And both contain iron. Recent scientific research proves that the iron in ALL-BRAN is almost completely utilized by the blood, bringing the glowing color of health! With milk or fruit juices, important vitamins are provided.

Add one of these delightful forms of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN to your diet today. As you enjoy eating it, you can be sure you will be freed from the scourge of constipation. The reason is that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN contains roughage—enough to sweep the system clean and keep it healthfully regular.

Better than pills or drugs

You know that pills only bring temporary relief from constipation. Their continued use is often dangerous.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is good to eat—healthful—and one Biscuit or two tablespoonfuls of cereal daily will relieve and prevent constipation. (With each meal in serious cases.) Eat with milk or cream. With honey, preserved or fresh fruits.

Use the krumbled form of ALL-BRAN in cooking. Have both kinds always for variety. Be sure to include in reducing diets to prevent constipation and dietary anemia. At your grocer's in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Lively and Young Advanced By Pullman Company Here

ROGER T. LIVELY.

Announcement was made Friday by the Pullman Company of the promotion of Roger T. Lively to the position of assistant superintendent of the company, which position was made vacant by the recent promotion of Assistant Superintendent F. B. Kemp to the position of superintendent, to succeed Colonel W. M. Camp, retired.

Mr. Lively entered the service of the Pullman Company in 1907, and has received many promotions during his long service, having served as night agent, day platform man, relief receiving cashier, relief ticket agent, service inspector and district claim agent.

His service with the Pullman Company has been uninterrupted except during the World War, when he was a member of the eighteenth service company signal corps, United States army.

Mr. Lively is a descendant of two well known and prominent Georgia families, his father having served for many years on the staff of The Constitution. His mother, who was a Miss Talmadge, was an aunt of Eugene Talmadge, state commissioner of agriculture.

The announcement of the promotion of Mr. Lively was received with approval by the railroad colony, and his friends throughout the state are congratulating him upon the honor conferred upon him.

As successor to the position of district claim agent, vacated by the promotion of Mr. Lively, the Pullman Company announced the promotion of Louis A. Young, who entered the service of the company in September, 1919, and was promoted to the position of service inspector in 1924, which position he held until he was promoted to the position of supervisor of employment in December, 1928, the duties of which office he has discharged efficiently.

SCHACHT QUILTS POST AS REICHSBANK HEAD

BERLIN, March 7.—(AP)—The resignation today of Dr. Hjalmar Schacht as president of the reichsbank is expected to have an influence on the progress of the Young plan and its connected legislation—the Polish liquidation agreement—in parliament.

While at the moment the alignment of parties to both of these issues cannot be foretold, it is widely believed that Dr. Schacht's dramatic resignation may spur the German people to induce all parties at least to give the Young plan and the Polish agreement a final and fearful once-over.

For, after all, Dr. Schacht, in giving his reasons for resignation, only reiterated the opinion that has been heard many times in Germany since the last Hague conference—that the present version of the Young plan is a mere distortion of the original plan.

In Wilhelmstrasse circles it was believed that the resignation would not affect the vote on the Young plan, but political leaders agreed that it came at an embarrassing moment. They did not blame Dr. Schacht, however, but rather the slowness of parliamentary procedure.

Under the schedule the second reading of the Young plan should have taken place yesterday and Dr. Schacht had agreed to withhold the announcement of his resignation until after a vote had been taken. But he decided today to hold off no longer.

As it is widely conceded that Dr. Schacht is one of the outstanding men in Germany, his resignation created a feeling of country-wide stupefaction. The bores first reacted with a panicky movement but the majority of shares soon rallied.

Followers and opponents alike to-night paid tribute to the conscientiousness of the man who was ready to renounce personal interests, dropping his position as president of the reichsbank at a salary of $30,000 marks a year until 1932, for what he believes—rightly or wrongly—the country's benefit.

And they predict that Dr. Schacht, despite his assertion that he intended to retire to the country, will play a dominating role in internal politics in the future.

BANK LOWERS DISCOUNT RATE

BERLIN, March 7.—(AP)—The reichsbank today reduced its rate a half per cent from 6 to 5 1/2 per cent. The Lombard rate was cut to 6 1/2 per cent.

BERLIN, March 7.—(AP)—Shares of the Reichsbank, Siemens, Pylpous and several others dropped from 15 to 17 points on news of the intention of Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, head of the reichsbank, to resign.

Naval Officer Takes Life in Leap Off Ship

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(AP)—The navy department announced today that Lieutenant Commander Allan Barnett, of Urbana, Ohio, had thrown himself overboard from the deck of the U. S. S. Bainbridge, the cruiser on which he was being transported from duty aboard the U. S. S. New York at Guantanamo to the naval hospital at Norfolk, Va.

The tragedy occurred March 5, between Haiti and Cuba. Barnett, it was reported, broke away from his medical attendants and jumped overboard. His body was not recovered.

Barnett graduated from the Naval academy in June, 1915. Naval records list his mother, Mrs. Esther C. Barnett, of San Diego, Cal., as his nearest of kin.

'Lowest Thief' Takes Blind Man's Fiddle

OAKLAND, Cal., March 7.—(AP)—For years M. C. Dunn, a blind fiddler, has made music on Oakland's street corners. Into his tin cup copers-by passers-by have tinkled to keep him from the bread line.

Last night someone slipped into his modest hotel room and stole his cherished violin.

"A Stradivarius, it was," Dunn told police. "It was worth whatever price you can put on a blind man's livelihood."

The thief is in for an unpleasant time if police ever find him.

FREAK STORM LEAVES TRAIL OF DISASTER

Tornado Descends at Intervals To Take Lives of Four.

NEW ORLEANS, March 7.—(AP)—Freakish winds that dipped down into three states left in their wake today four dead, fifty injured and property damage running into thousands of dollars.

Breaking out of a calm sky, the winds of tornado proportions struck Natchitoches and Claiborne parishes in Louisiana, rose to a triangular point at Gregory, Ark., and then swooped sharply southward to come to earth in Bolivar county, Mississippi, to spread death and destruction.

The intervening area between the four points escaped with slight damage and in many places residents were not aware that the dangerous wind was blowing overhead, as it appeared after nightfall last night.

For hours information from the area could not be obtained because of damaged wires and blocked roads. Then news came through of the deaths of Mrs. J. W. Adams, 65, of near Kosciusko, Miss., and of three negroes, Vera Gibson, of near Homer, Ala., and two unidentified farm hands of Bolivar county, Mississippi.

In Claiborne parish, Louisiana, eight negroes were injured, two seriously, when the wind demolished their cabins in a 10-mile path starting at Aycock and blowing toward Homer.

Near Athens, La., Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Whitaker, were trapped in the demolished home, and the walls had to be chopped open for their rescue.

Further south in Natchitoches parish six persons were injured, one seriously, and seven homes were blown down.

The wind then moved sharply northward appearing again at the village of Gregory, Ark., and virtually wiped out the settlement with a property damage estimated at $50,000.

000. From there it headed southeastward and came down again in the Mississippi delta, where it took three lives and destroyed 15 residences.

The wind was followed by heavy rain that swelled streams in north Mississippi, the Tombigbee river rising 10 feet during the night.

The Red Cross organized relief work in the stricken areas and today the situation was reported well in hand.

Poor Rich Woman Returns in Cab To Squalid Home

SEATTLE, March 7.—(AP)—Happy in her adopted poverty Seattle's "old lady of the lamps" who is worth a fortune, but who has lived alone in squalor for 16 years, was back in her ramshackle home here today.

Mrs. Francis Jackson, 83, who won her sobriquet because she insisted she could not afford electric lights, dipped into her $30,000 "rainy day" fund to return to her home in style from the sanitarium where she had been confined for a mental test.

The taxi ride was at the suggestion of Judge Everett Smith, who declared her sane yesterday, at a hearing requested by her 61-year-old son, William.

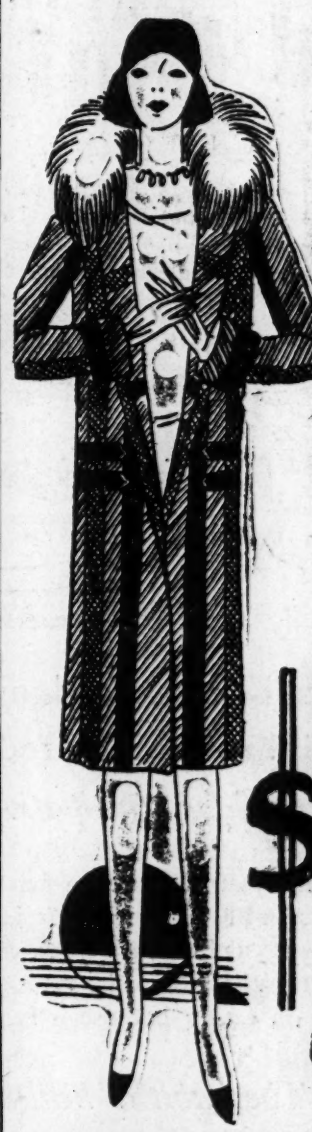

"While will starve unless I take care of him," Mrs. Jackson replied when the court told her she was too old to live alone and too rich not to enjoy some of the luxuries of life.

"I'm a poor woman," she insisted, but she agreed to the expense of hiring a cab to take her home and the son whom she publicly forgave for having her committed to an asylum went along to live with her.

For 16 years it was disclosed she had lived on a diet of tea, toast and potatoes although a fortune, principally stocks and bonds, was found concealed in tin cans beneath the baseboard behind her kitchen stove.

MAURY-COLE PLANT WILL OPEN TODAY

Quarter-Million-Dollar Canova Food Products Factory Dedicated.

Maury-Cole Company, Inc., manufacturer of Canova food products, will formally open its new factory here at 196-200 Walker street today, holding open house from 1 to 10 p. m.

The establishment represents an expenditure of approximately a quarter of a million dollars and is regarded as one of the most modern and complete manufacturing plants of its kind in the country.

Serving a territory covering Georgia, Florida, North Carolina, South Carolina and east Tennessee, the Atlanta factory will be represented by 25 salesmen in the territory and will have a plant force numbering between 115 and 120.

The Atlanta plant, which is under the management of C. W. Read, is one of the four operated by the company, the others being located at Louisville, Ky.; Memphis, Tenn., and Dallas, Texas, in addition to distributing depots in key cities.

Maury-Cole Company is rated as one of the largest manufacturers of peanut butter in the United States, and buys annually about $200,000 of Georgia peanuts, which constitutes about half of the amount used in all its plants.

All of the peanuts used at the Atlanta plant will be purchased in Georgia, it is announced by officials of the company, which it is estimated will amount to approximately 150 cars annually.

In holding the open house the company plans to give the people of Atlanta an opportunity to see the plant in full operation so that they might have an idea of how the products are made.

In connection with the opening there will be a special Atlanta program broadcast from Station WJLV, Cincinnati, at 8 p. m., and arrangements have been made to "pick up" at various points in the plant as an entertainment feature for the visitors.

Sandwiches and coffee will be served throughout the afternoon and evening.

Another feature of the dedication of the plant was a dinner in its offices Friday night. Prominent city and state officials, representatives of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, railroads, banks and a number of other industries were in attendance. R. B. Russell, Jr., speaker of the house of representatives, delivered the principal address, and the program was broadcast over WSB.

R. A. Workman, executive in charge of advertising for the company, attended the opening as the official representative from headquarters, maintained at Memphis.

Mr. Workman says that the company has shown phenomenal growth in the past five or six years and predicts that its coffee will be the next to make a spectacular national showing.

In addition to peanut butter and coffee, Canova products include tea, mayonnaise, condiments, spices and extracts.

Aid in Writing Letter Denied By Mrs. Andrews

Mrs. J. E. Andrews, jointly indicted by the last Fulton grand jury with Mrs. J. R. Wakefield, editor of the Georgia Woman's World, on a charge of an alleged libelous publication concerning Solicitor-General John A. Boykin, in a statement Friday to The Constitution assumed all responsibility for the letter written to the grand jury and subsequently published in The World for which the two women were indicted.

Mrs. Andrews was prompted in making her statement, following persistent rumors, she said, to the effect that Mrs. Wakefield and a lawyer of West End, whom Mrs. Andrews declined to name, had written the article.

"I alone am responsible for the paper that appeared before the grand jury," said Mrs. Andrews Friday. "I wrote it without anyone's help and if it is libel then I alone am guilty. Wakefield is not a writer and I don't believe that she should have been indicted in the first place."

She said that she had met Mrs. Wakefield on only one occasion before the letter was sent to the grand jury. The occasion of the meeting was when Mrs. Andrews called upon Mrs. Wakefield to ascertain the reason why she had not received her copy of The World to which she had been a subscriber for about six months, said Mrs. Andrews.

As to the letter, she said, "I sent to the grand jury. I never had a personal conversation with Mrs. Wakefield in my life. Nor did I know such a person existed as the West End lawyer until about three days before I was indicted when I was introduced to him," she said. The letter in question was sent to the grand jury a week or more before this introduction, she asserted.

She charged that on the very day the letter was received by the jury that through a leak in the jury the text of her letter became generally known.

When she found that the contents of the letter had been divulged, she said, she then sent a copy to The World for publication, but only after the receipt of a letter herself from an anonymous writer telling her to leave town or be shot.

"I know who sent me the threatening letter. I know that it was the same person that was informed of my letter to the grand jury. I can prove all that I say," claimed Mrs. Andrews Friday night. She stated further that Mr. Boykin told a "certain man" about the letter to the jury and that this man then told his wife who in turn called Mrs. Andrews on the telephone about the matter.

Indictment Charges Desertion to Jeter

An indictment charging F. P. Jeter, New York bond salesman and former Atlanta, with abandonment of two minor children was returned Friday by the Fulton county grand jury following complaint to the solicitor-general's office by Mrs. Mildred S. Jeter that alimony of $300 a month was not being paid by Jeter as directed by the court.

Jeter is charged in the indictment with abandonment of Fred P. Jeter, Jr., 12, and Sidney Jeter, 9, on October 1, 1927. The Jeters were married October 7, 1915, and, according to Mrs. Jeter's divorce petition, separated in October of 1927. Mrs. Jeter charged her husband with drunkenness and abuse in the petition filed in March, 1929, and a divorce decree was handed down by Judge Virgil R. Moore on January 20. The decree awarded alimony of $100 a month to Mrs. Jeter, and provided $100 a month each for the two children.

Atlanta Directory Shows Gain of 17,000 Population

Consider the directory, 1930 model, for Atlanta, which Friday made its appearance in the offices and business houses of the south's metropolis. Of citizens we have 283,000—metropolitan area, 350,111—a gain in a year of some 17,000. The assessed valuation of our property is $392,785,842; banks accounts aggregate $159,500,396; annual payroll is $21,000,000, and the annual value of manufactured products $138,700,000. There are 70,352 homes in Atlanta, 67,700 telephones and 4,400 first class hotel bedrooms.

The directory shows these and other salient facts. In Atlanta there are only three humans and 12 persons, and there is but one doctor and one merchant in the city. Incidentally, one Vice.

Would someone call the new grand jury's attention to 13 Mayors holding tenure simultaneously with Mr. Hagdale?

Atlanta—the chamber of commerce please note—has a queer composite of Heaven and Paradise. Eden is in it. And Adam and Eve live here. There is even an Apple.

No Hell seems to be in Atlanta. We have Sunshine, Summer, Try and Flame (also Bake, Broyle, Blaze and Burn). But no Hell. The Parsons—and there are plenty of them—are an active lot. Lock and Key, distant relatives of Damon and Pythias, reside in Atlanta. And Upper and Lower. And Cash and Carry. And Buck and Wing.

Some of the other pairs—there are 17 Pairs—are High and Low, Strong and Weak, Classes and Masses, Wild and Woolly.

It is a cosmopolitan place. There are English, Irish, Scott, Welsh, French, Norman, German, Dane, Stitzer, Finn, Lett, Turk, Roman, Moor and Bushman, not to mention the Christians and Gentiles, the Savages and the Bond and Free.

We have some Steeds in Atlanta, also a few Trotters and some Hoppers. Athletes include the Springers, Archers, Bowlers, Divers, Swingers, Players, Pitchers and Throwers. The last but not least are the Smiths, Jones, Browns, et al. The Smith tribe numbers 4,017 in the city; that of the Joneses, 2,443; the Johnsons, 2,382; Browns, 1,614; Williams, 1,530, and Jacksons, 1,049.

So much for Atlanta for 1930. Comfort, Peace and Joy abide here. We have Character, Talent, Thrift and Wisdom. With Love, Fortune, Lucke we may yet gain Victory.

'NAPOLEON OF STAGE' DIES AT GOTHAM HOME

NEW YORK, March 7.—(AP)—A. L. Erlanger, who as organizer and head of a countrywide theater syndicate was the dominant figure in the show business State for many years, died today at his home here, two months before his seventieth birthday.

Starting as an opera-glass boy in a Cleveland playhouse, he came to New York in young manhood and put into operation with his partner, Marc Klaw, the first orderly plan of sending theatrical attractions on tour.

He revolutionized the therefore haphazard booking methods of the theater and gained such power that he was resented as a "czar" by those outside his chain of theaters, but he retained his supremacy for many seasons.

At his death he owned or controlled more than 30 theaters, and was the largest individual theater owner in the world.

Until he fell into a coma 10 days ago, from the attack of uraemic poisoning which caused his death, he had been active in the control of his properties. Only a few days before his last illness he purchased an additional interest in the Broad Street theater in Philadelphia, and in January he made a three-week swing to the Pacific coast and homeward through the south to visit some of his far-flung playhouses.

His funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at Temple Emanuel. He is survived by a brother, Mitchell L. Erlanger, a retired justice of the New York supreme court, and two sisters, Miss May Erlanger and Mrs. C. Bergman.

ATLANTA ERLANGER NAMED FOR MAGNATE. A. L. Erlanger, nationally known theatrical magnate, who died unexpectedly Friday at the age of 69, had been personally represented in Atlanta for the past 15 years by Lewis Haase, manager of the Atlanta Erlanger. This theater, which is three years old, was constructed under Mr. Haase's direction and is one of a chain of similar theaters which extends all the way across the country.

Prior to the construction of the Erlanger Mr. Erlanger was personally interested in the local theatrical game as the lessee of the Atlanta theater, which Mr. Haase also managed.

While he had never been to Atlanta himself he had planned to attend the opening of the Erlanger here three years ago but was prevented from so doing by ill health.

Dr. Smith To Assume Duties Here April 1

Dr. Wilburn S. Smith, of Louisville, Ky., will arrive in Atlanta on April 1 to assume his duties as the new pastor of the Jackson Hill Baptist church. Dr. Smith is a native of Mississippi and a graduate of the state university there. He entered the ministry upon graduation at the age of 21.

He was ordained at the First Baptist church of Oxford, Miss., and afterwards completed a full course at the Southern Baptist Theological seminary at Louisville, where the degrees of Th. D. and Ph. D. were conferred upon him. He has held pastorates in both his native state and in Kentucky.

RELIGIOUS WORKERS GO TO SCHOOL SUNDAY. A school for religious workers has been arranged by the Rev. B. E. Mize and other pastors, to be held at the Sardis church, it was announced Friday. The school of instruction will be held each night for five nights, starting Sunday night, March 9.

Fire Calls

Fire calls for Friday as recorded at department headquarters: No. 11—1100 Fourteenth street; no damage; company 15.

No. 31—M. L. Ponce de Leon; dry cleaning plant; cause unknown; small damage; companies 6, 11 and 19.

Clear, Cooler Weather Seen For City Today

Clearing, cooler weather is in store for Atlanta today, according to the official forecast of C. F. von Herrmann, local meteorologist.

Some of the other pairs—there are 17 Pairs—are High and Low, Strong and Weak, Classes and Masses, Wild and Woolly.

It is a cosmopolitan place. There are English, Irish, Scott, Welsh, French, Norman, German, Dane, Stitzer, Finn, Lett, Turk, Roman, Moor and Bushman, not to mention the Christians and Gentiles, the Savages and the Bond and Free.

Atlanta Pastors To Discuss Graft In Sunday Talks

Sermons dealing directly or indirectly with the subject of alleged graft in the government of the borough of Atlanta will be delivered from the pulpits of at least four Atlanta churches Sunday morning and Sunday night. These are the Baptist tabernacle, Wesley Memorial Methodist church, Stewart Avenue Methodist church and the First Christian church.

Dr. Len G. Broughton, pastor of the Baptist tabernacle, has stated that he will tell "when the alleged graft in Atlanta's city government began, why it began, and the way out of the situation, regardless of what self-interested parties may think." He will preach this sermon Sunday night at the regular hour of worship, and the subject will be, "Atlanta in the Grip of Robbers and Grafters—Does it Mean a Change of City Government?"

According to Dr. Broughton, after his subject matter for his Sunday night sermon was announced through the press he received calls from several telling him to keep out of city politics and to preach the Gospel. Dr. Broughton has styled this as the "usual reaction" and continues his plans to preach as he originally announced.

In announcing his subject for his Sunday night sermon at Wesley Memorial church, the Rev. L. Wilkie Collins said Saturday, "Graft is as old as the race, the new thing in Atlanta situation is the enlightened civic conscience which refuses to take it for granted." He continued that the subject, "When a City Repents" will be a discussion of "the twin-perils of the graft probe which is not only the church's, but everybody's business."

At the First Christian church both the morning and evening sermons have a decided trend toward a frank discussion of the situation in city government. At 11 o'clock in the morning, Dr. C. R. Stauffer, pastor, will discuss the subject, "Jesus Weeps Over the City" and at 7:30 o'clock Sunday night he will take as his topic, "An Ancient Grafters and a Fearless Preacher."

The Rev. Wills M. Jones, pastor of the Stewart Avenue Methodist church, will be the fourth minister to touch on municipal affairs during Sunday. At the night service he will preach on the subject, "A Great City With a Christian Government." This service will be at 7:30 o'clock.

Child Is Taken Twice To Grady in One Day

Charles Singer, 5, of 770 Primrose street, was a patient at Grady hospital twice in the same day as the result of a fall from his little toy wagon Friday afternoon. Early in the afternoon he was brought to the hospital, treated for a presumably slight wound to his head, and discharged Friday night, however, his condition grew rapidly worse and he was again taken to the hospital. On the second trip it was found that the child was suffering from concussion of the brain. However, his condition was not considered as serious.

Students Are Fined For 'Bumming' Rides

Two students were given light fines before Recorder A. W. Callaway Friday for "bumming rides" at the corner of Houston street and Pryor street. They were the first to be arrested under the orders of Chief of Police James L. Beavers, that students over the city be stopped from annoying motorists. Both were fined $5 and costs each, and the payment of the fines suspended. The two were W. C. Roberts, 17, of 14 McLendon avenue, and Thomas L. Barker, 17, of 525 Semmore avenue. They were arrested by Traffic Officer H. G. Brice, Thursday.

Probe by Grand Jury Commended by Club

Action of the grand jury in probing alleged corruption and graft at the city hall was commended in resolutions passed Friday night at a meeting of the Morningside Civic League. Investigation of conditions in the school department also was approved.

The resolutions follow: That the league adopts a resolution advising to the public at large, Fulton county grand jury, later-civic League members, and others, its full co-operation in the pending probe into the conduct of officials of both council and school departments of Atlanta, and endorsement of the action of the courts in the prosecution of all violators.

Music Association Closes Membership Drive Tonight

Mrs. Wilmer L. Moore holding the famous clock with the hands pointed at 10 o'clock, the hour when the music association campaign for members ends.

The Atlanta Civic Music Association will end its annual campaign for members at 10 o'clock tonight when Eugene R. Black, president, and Mrs. Wilmer L. Moore, directing the campaign, will bring out the famous "time clock" for the equally famous closing.

No memberships will be obtainable after the closing hour and no single tickets will be sold for any of the concerts presented on the series. The membership is open to the general public.

The association is designed to meet all tastes for old and young, the cultivated musician and the layman. The Atlanta Music Club, the sponsors of the association, has for 15 years presented a listing of concert artists unexcelled by any city and promises to the subscribers next year the same high standard artists. There will be at least three concerts, added to the 16 morning programs of the club, all for $5.

The Atlanta Conservatory of Music faculty has joined 100 per cent. Earle Chester Smith is the captain of this section of the campaign activities. Headquarters at Phillips and Crew Piano Company is open daily. Subscribers may use the card below.

Barnett, in First Statement, Praises Tate, Opposes Bonds

New Chairman of Highway Board Says Its Finances Are in Fine Condition.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 2.—(AP)—Captain J. W. Barnett, newly-appointed chairman of the state highway board, believes a one-year program of road building is the best policy for the board to follow.

"I hardly think," he said here today, "that adoption of a program extending for more than 12 months will be the wise thing to do."

Captain Barnett said today that it would be his policy to advocate a continuous system of hard-surfaced roads. He added that for the present at least, he sees no need for a bond issue.

"If the state obtains $12,000,000 to $14,000,000 annually for road building, without bonds," he said, "there is no need for a bond issue at present."

"No man can foretell what the future will demand, but for the present, certainly, we have ample funds for carrying on a worthwhile program. There are hundreds of miles of highways in Georgia ready for hard-surfacing. There are, of course, many hundreds of miles that will have to be relocated and graded. It will be my policy, as chairman of the highway board, to advocate a continuous system of hard-surfaced roads."

"Much has been done along that line, and much remains to be accomplished. In my opinion a one-year program will be wise for the board to follow."

Captain Barnett has been deeply interested in Georgia's highway problems since the creation of the state department several years ago with his fellow townsman, Dr. Charles M. Strahan, of the University of Georgia, as its first chairman.

Alumnus of Georgia, he is an alumnus of the University of Georgia, a graduate of its school of engineering. He has supervised many large engineering tasks and has been consulting engineer for some of the state's largest industrial concerns.

The head of four Athens municipal departments, Captain Barnett has been called "four-fifths of the city government."

He designed and built the Athens waterworks system, which is valued at $1,000,000, and yields a net revenue, under his direction, of an average of $50,000 per annum. He is also city engineer, having supervised the construction of every mile of the city's pavements and sidewalks.

He has also served for several years as superintendent of the street department.

In recent years he has been general supervisor of the sanitary department which he modernized when it was turned over to him several years ago in line with a local practice to "turn over to city" all sanitary work requiring more than ordinary efficiency.

Pledges Best Efforts. Captain Barnett said today that he would endeavor to "give to the execution of the duties attending the office my very best efforts."

"I want the people of the state to understand that I am just as anxious to see the state highway system completed as any Georgian," he said. "What we want is results in the way of good roads and more of them."

"So far as I am concerned, the roads will be paved according to practical needs and not according to political expediency."

GEORGIA COAST GUARD UNIT IS ORGANIZED

Officers and Fifty Men Mustered Into Service at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Ga., March 2.—(AP)—Organization of Battery "B," a unit in the two hundred sixty-fourth coast artillery battalion, harbor defense of the Georgia national guard, was effected here tonight when Colonel Ephraim G. Peyton, of the regular army, who is also a major general in the Georgia national guard, in command of the third division, mustered the officers and 50 men into service.

At the same time that officers of the local unit were commissioned officers of battery "A" station at Statesboro were sworn into service. The enlisted men of battery "A" will be mustered into service on Friday, March 14.

Authority was recently obtained from the war department for the organization of a coast artillery battalion in Georgia which will be increased after July 1 to a four battery battalion, at which time two other Georgia cities will be designated for placement of batteries "C" and "D."

Accompanying Colonel Peyton to Washington today were Adjutant General Homer C. Parker, of the Georgia national guard; Lieutenant Colonel Arthur O'Connell, state quartermaster and U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey; Major McIntosh Burns, of the medical corps, Georgia national guard, and Major O'Connell, of Statesboro, the battalion commander.

J. E. Stoddard was made commanding officer of battery "B" with A. S. Quinn, first lieutenant, and C. E. Wills, second lieutenant.

By appreciative of the work Colonel Tate and the latter's predecessors have done to make his own task easier.

"Georgia is greatly indebted to Colonel Tate for what he has done for its highway system," he said. "Colonel Tate accepted the chairmanship of the highway board at great personal sacrifice because he believed it would be for the good of the state."

METHODIST ANNEX OPENED AT TOCCOA

Bishop W. B. Beauchamp, of Atlanta, Preaches at Dedication Program.

TOCCOA, Ga., March 2.—The Toccoa Methodist church observed the occasion of the completion of the Sunday school annex Thursday. Bishop W. B. Beauchamp, of Atlanta, preached to a large congregation of attentive hearers.

Dinner was served in the basement of the church, which Mrs. J. M. Marks, of the Episcopal church, Claude Bond, of the First Baptist church; Robert Graves, of the Presbyterian church, brought fraternal greetings. These talks were responded to by Clyde McClure, superintendent of the Methodist Sunday school.

W. W. Beverly, representing the building committee, presented the building to the trustees, while G. K. Lathrop spoke as chairman of the board of trustees.

The exercises, which were broadcast in the evening over station WTFL, consisted of an address by Dr. Arthur Cline, pastor of the First Baptist church, on the "Essential Qualifications of a First-Class Sunday School," followed by a musical program presented by the various churches of the community.

In addition to the Toccoa pastors, many visiting pastors were present, and took part in the exercises, among them being Rev. W. P. Hunsicker, H. L. Edmond, J. E. Holbrook, of Elberton; Rev. J. H. Couch, of Lanonia; Rev. W. W. Wash, of Bowman; Rev. J. C. Jones, of Canon; J. G. Davis, of Clarksville; Rev. C. B. Drake, of Cornelia, and Rev. D. S. Patterson, of Clayton.

The building committee entrusted with the work of erecting the annex is composed of the following: H. J. Busha, chairman; O. A. Teasley, treasurer; Claude Groover, J. C. Capps, H. W. Meadors, S. D. Trotter, R. W. McNeely, G. K. Lathrop, Belton Bond, Clyde McClure.

The Scripture lessons for the occasion were read by Rev. Keller Marner, assistant pastor of the Toccoa Presbyterian church. The concluding prayer was offered by Rev. C. C. Matteson, pastor of the Toccoa Methodist church. Rev. W. J. DeBardeleben, pastor of Toccoa Methodist church, acted as master of ceremonies.

Vallee Ends Week On Fox Screen Today

This afternoon and tonight, the golden voice of Rudy Vallee will be heard for the last time from the screen at the Fox theater, where he has been starred all week in "The Vagabond King," his first feature picture.

Rudy's own song, "The Vagabond King," and his early struggles for musical recognition form the basis of the story. In the supporting cast are Marie Dressler, Sally Blane and his own famous "Connie Mack" team.

Four new song hits are being introduced to Atlantans in "The Vagabond King." They are "A Little Kiss Each Morning," "I'll Be Reminded of You," "I Love You, Believe Me, I Love You," and "If You Were the Only Girl in the World."

On the stage Fanchon & Marco's "Garden Idea" is a song and dance extravaganza replete with beauty and grace.

'The Girl Said No' Typical of Haines

"The Girl Said No" is the latest starring vehicle of William Haines. It was seen this week at a preview at the Capitol, where it will be offered for a week's run in the near future.

If you have a weakness for William Haines, you'll like this picture. For it is entirely and absolutely a typical Haines opus, and is even more Haines than "Navy Blues."

It is the story of wild youth just out of college, supposed to be breaking into the business world but in reality concentrating all his efforts to win a blond beauty who stengas for a living. The b. b., Leila Haines. Personally, for at least half the film, this reviewer was hoping someone would step on Haines and cure him of his brashness, instead of hoping he'd win the girl. In fact, we hoped she would not be weak-minded enough to fall for his line.

But along came tragedy and responsibility. The villain got villainous and Haines began to display some real qualities of a hero. And at the end we weren't sorry when he got the girl and all the villain got was the bridal veil.

Incidentally, about two-thirds through the picture, one of our pet talking screen weaknesses broke into the story and everything was okay from then on. Whenever Marie Dressler shows her dear old features in a picture, you'll find us somewhere in the vicinity, taking a look-see. And, in addition, we found out in this film that Marie, old as she is, possesses a most bee-yootiful pair of legs.

SMASHING HIT!

—that's what everyone said last night at the premiere as they sat spellbound while the world's most magnificent love story unfolded before them. They marvelled at the gorgeous Technicolor, thrilled at the superb Friml music and cheered it as the supreme triumph of the talking screen. You'll agree that they were right, too, when you see—

Colquitt Farmers Profit By Diversification Program

Establishment of New Industries and Home Markets Helps Eliminate Farm Depression.

MOULTREE, Ga., March 2.—(AP) Old Man Farm Depression has taken a punch on the nose in this south-west Georgia county where the bankers and farmers have joined in a benevolent conspiracy that holds just about all the aces in the deck.

As a result, says W. C. Vereen, guiding hand of the Colquitt county farm program, which is becoming a model for the south, the last five years have been among the best the county has experienced. His bank—he is president of it and a member of the Georgia Highway commission—has its roots in 1929 and loaned a million dollars to Wall Street.

The program started after the boll weevil ravaged Georgia in 1913. That looked bad for Colquitt county, where cotton was the main crop. A small group of bankers and businessmen decided the cotton raisers must raise their heads, but there was a catch in that.

There were no packing plants nearby. So they started one. The farmers, under the plan, an elevator which was agreeable and the plant laid out so that it was sold at a profit in 1917 to a large packing company.

The capacity is 1,500 hogs and 200 cattle a day, drawn from southwest Georgia, southeast Alabama and northwest Florida.

Giving the farmers a home market has proved successful, but during the high-priced cotton years, 1917, 1918 and 1919, they neglected their stock raising and reverted to a one-crop tendency. A crop failure in 1923 left them in a bad way.

New Industries Established. So the men who came to the rescue in 1913 extended the program and established new industries that include a creamery, an elevator which handles grains, hay, velvet beans and peanuts, a canning plant, cotton gin, cotton mill, mattress factory, overall factory, cotton seed oil mill, fertilizer plant, peanut shelling plant, three tobacco warehouses, including the two largest in Georgia, and markets for eggs, poultry, sheep and goats.

The Colquitt county banks laid out a program which the farmer accepted and the bankers, holding the credit purse strings, were in a position to insist on.

The banks made a plan in their advertising that live stock was choice collateral and that diversification meant better credit standing.

The program, taking a one-horse farm as a basic unit, is:

Two acres in corn, peanuts, velvet beans and other crops; one to two acres in permanent pastures; five to seven acres in cotton; a few acres in truck and melons where the farm is situated convenient to market.

Bacco came in for its share, too. Two brood sows and 50 purebred hogs were recommended for every plow and, where conditions warranted, two dairy cows.

The plan worked from the start and the industries and farmers both flourished. Many Colquitt county farmers in 1923 paid off their debts in 1924. The plan has been adopted by bankers of 28 southwest Georgia counties.

Last year the county, with a population of 30,000, produced farm products worth seven million dollars. Tobacco, little raised in Colquitt several years ago, totaled five million pounds. Cotton acreage has decreased but the average yield per acre has increased.

YOUTHS ARE JAILED ON ROBBERY CHARGE

MACON, Ga., March 2.—(AP)—Police announced tonight that they had cleaned up the mystery of a number of small robberies here and that two 13-year-old youths, Ira Carter and Durwood Brinkley, were under arrest.

The youths confessed to robbing two grocery stores and two schools, according to Chief of Police Ben T. Watkins.

Police in searching a house where the boys spent much of their time found 25 cartons of cigarettes in the attic, overall, lumberjacks, handkerchiefs and hosiery.

'Yankee' Gives Two Performances Today

One of the finest musical comedies presented in Atlanta in years is "A Connecticut Yankee," which will close its engagement at the Erlanger theater today with matinee and night performances. "A Connecticut Yankee" is an imaginative masterpiece. It puts a modern, shrewd, up-to-date young American against a background of medieval chivalry and the humor is the result of the contrast. The book does honor to Mark Twain himself.

Even the dances mean something and are far from the time-killing vacuities of less brilliant displays. That indomitable trio—Herbert Fields, Richard Rodgers and Lorenz Hart—are responsible for this worthwhile entertainment.

Sheriffs Must Sign Auto Tag Applications

Applications for automobile licenses will not be accepted at the office of the secretary of state unless they are signed by the sheriff of the county in which the applicant resides, George H. Carwell, secretary of state, announced Friday.

Under the motor vehicle act sheriffs must approve applications after March 1, and are allowed a fee of $1 for this service.

Hundreds of applications have been returned since March 1 by the department for this reason, Mr. Carwell stated.

Thus far the receipts of the department are more than $100,000 in excess of the amount last year. It is estimated that the sales of tag this year will exceed $50,000, which would be an increase of about $500,000.

Hurt by Iron Anvil, Man Sues for $10,000

The fall of a heavy iron anvil upon his left foot made the basis of a $10,000 damage suit filed Friday in Fulton superior court by L. P. Attaway, 28, against Z. T. Layfield, garage proprietor, 141 Marietta. Attaway, through his attorneys, E. A. Fowler and Carl E. Hutcherson, charges that on February 23 he was in Layfield's garage in connection with the straightening of an automobile axle when the anvil fell over and mangled his left foot and toes. The plaintiff charges that the anvil was insecurely attached to a block of wood.

KENTUCKY ELIMINATES AUTO SLATE SLOGAN

Acquittal of Ed Webb, alias "Flipp," negro, charged of larceny from the house, Friday was followed by the return of a Fulton county grand jury indictment charging John West Point, alias John Richardson, A. W. Hill, alias Chuck, and Fletcher Reed with gambling.

OGLETHORPE TO BEGIN WINTER EXAMS TODAY

Examinations for the winter term will begin today at Oglethorpe University and continue throughout the following week.

Spring holidays for the university will begin March 15. The students will re-register for the spring term on Wednesday, March 19.

Before and After

On the left we see Georgia Backus as her smiling self, but when the Nit Wits claim her as their own, the young lady casts aside the cloak of normality to don the garb of Aphrodite Godiva in which she is pictured on the right. The hilariously insane antics of the Nit Wits enter the homes of the radio audience every Saturday night via WGST and the Columbia System.

SCHOOL CHILDREN SICK, EXERCISES POSTPONED

Flag raising exercises, which were to be held at the Morningstar school today, have been postponed indefinitely because of a spread of sickness among the school children. It was announced Friday. The patriotic exercises are being sponsored by the school, the Morningstar Parent-Teacher Association and the Morningstar Civic Club and will be held at some later date, it was stated.

Topographical Map Fund Is Approved

Members of the Atlanta bond commission Friday afternoon approved allocation of $20,000 from sewer bond funds for completion of topographical maps of Atlanta and its environs.

The maps are of great value in the sewer survey now being compiled by Whitman, Requa and Smith, nationally known sanitary experts of Baltimore, with a view of establishing adequate sewer facilities for Atlanta for the next 50 years.

Officials of the company Friday reported much progress on the survey, declaring it is progressing fully as rapidly as was expected.

Morris Brown Heads Plan Celebration

The faculty and board of trustees of Morris Brown University will celebrate Founders' Day in college chapel next Wednesday.

Since assignment of Bishop W. A. Fountain to the Georgia work, the school has reduced a $210,000 debt to $85,000 in 18 months.

Negro, 62, Given Life For Murder of Wife

Walter Webster, 62, negro, Friday was sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of his wife, Ella Webster. A juror in Judge John D. Humphries' division of Fulton superior court found Webster guilty of murder, but recommended mercy. The slaying occurred on November 17, a hammer being the weapon used.

CITIZENS SEEK OUSTER OF TENNESSEE SHERIFF

Dissatisfaction With Handling of Strike Situation Expressed.

ELIZABETHTON, Tenn., March 7.—(AP)—A petition asking the ouster of Sheriff J. M. Moreland, of Carter county, from office for alleged incompetence and inability to enforce the law today was filed with Ben Allen, attorney-general for the fourth Tennessee judicial district.

Attorney-General Allen said the petition, signed by 76 Carter county citizens, was the direct outgrowth of present and previous labor disturbances.

"The petition is the result of the citizens' dissatisfaction with Sheriff Moreland's handling of the present and previous difficulties growing out of Elizabethton's labor situation," Attorney-General Allen said.

The petition cites that Sheriff Moreland went to Attorney-General Allen and told him he was unable to cope with the situation and asked that a special deputy "be appointed to enforce the law."

William Fair recently was named a special deputy and placed in charge of the labor squad of the sheriff's office.

Allen said he would decide shortly whether he would take any action on the petition and if he decided it merited action, he would file out proceedings in Carter county chancery court.

Sheriff Moreland issued a statement later saying, "I know I can handle this situation and I am going to fight and ouster proceedings."

Meanwhile the situation about the American Glass and American Benzene rayon mills was quiet. The mill officials continued to remain silent on the offer of a settlement made yesterday by J. C. Donnelly, president of the local of the United Textile Workers of America.

The mill officials had previously issued a statement declaring there was "no strike" but that all the unemployed in the Appalachian district had congregated here and were demonstrating.

Heavy rains today kept all but a few pickets inside.

There was no disturbance and workers proceeded to the mills without molestation.

The strike call was issued by the union Sunday in protest against alleged discrimination against union members and a "stretch out" system.

County Candidates Make Bids for Votes

Paul S. Etheridge, Walter C. Hendrix and Dr. W. L. Gilbert, candidates for re-election for the posts of county commissioner in the primary slated for March 19, and Nelson Spratt, Alex. Whitley and Dr. Dan Griffith, their opponents, spoke Friday night at a meeting at the Adair Park school.

A large crowd from the Sylvan Hills, Capitol View, Oakland City sections as well as from the Adair sections heard the speakers in their bid for votes.

All the candidates or their representatives were on the rostrum.

Another meeting is slated in the tenth ward at 8 o'clock tonight at the Stewart Avenue school.

Iron Worker's Foot Caught Under Engine

Several broken bones in the foot was the fate of Frank Ware, 21, an iron worker whose foot was pinned under the crushing weight of a 13,000-pound hoisting engine in the excavation for the new Healy building at Five Points Friday. Ware was pinned down in this manner by the engine for five minutes and an ambulance of Ed Bond & Condon Co., stood waiting to carry him to medical aid as soon as workmen succeeded in removing the weight. It was feared that he would lose his foot but when the pressure was relieved it was found that soft clay in which he was standing had partially protected him.

INSTALLMENT 36.

"And I thought you a good fellow and a brave man," he groaned, as he took my hand, "but a bit of a simpleton. Major, it's I who was the simpleton. You gave me the chance of my life and I threw it away."

"You know now, then, that we had Joseph in our hands?"

"I'm just as sure of it as that the real Ruben Sans landed at Liverpool this morning. Joseph has been playing at a higher game than ordinary jewel robberies. He is the most amazing person we've been up against for many years. He left the Milan hotel at 6 o'clock this morning. I have just come from searching his rooms. Not a paper, not an address, not a single thing there to help us. And to think," he deplored, a note almost of passionate regret in that pleasant, even tone of his, "he was my man last night—the greatest capture of my life. I hadn't the sense to believe you, major."

"It can't be helped," I sighed. "We shall get him before many hours have passed."

"Why do you think so?" he asked eagerly. "You see, I can't afford to let even an idea of yours pass now, major."

"Because," I explained, "I don't believe that he would leave the country without going down to Breezley. He's got an account—an account of hate, I suppose you'd call it—to settle with Martin Hews."

"It's possible," Hoor admitted. "I'll send three men down there tonight. I must be off now. I couldn't rest until I had owned up to you, major. I'm sorry—I can't say more."

I ordered an early dinner in my rooms. Afterwards I began to realize my weariness. My sitting room was warm and comfortable, and I fell asleep.

I was awakened by a soft tapping at the door. I glanced at my watch and sat up. It was only 9 o'clock, so I could not have been asleep for more than 20 minutes. The tapping was repeated. I took my automatic from under a newspaper by my side, and acknowledged the summons.

"Come in," I enjoined.

The door opened. Mr. Leopold, smiling at me deprecatingly as he unwound a thick scarf from his neck, took off a pair of motor glasses, and advanced into the room.

"You will excuse this interruption, major," he begged. "I have just motored up from the country. I am the bearer of a very important message. You permit that I rid myself of some of these things?"

He deposited an enormous ulster, his hat and other impediments upon one of my chairs.

"Are you alone?" I asked him.

"Absolutely alone," he assured me. "I come in peace, Major. You can search me. I am unarmed."

I believed him, but I saw no reason to run any risks. I crossed the room and passed my hands over his pockets and body. There was no doubt that he was telling the truth. I looked the door, in case he was only an advance guard of more troublesome visitors, and pointed to a chair.

"Necessity," I told him, "is teaching me caution. I can't imagine what you have to say to me that I should want to listen to or take any interest in, but since you are here, sit down and get along with it."

"It is unfortunate," he remarked, "that I do not seem to have established myself as persona grata with you, Major."

The man's insolence was amazing. "If there is one person," I rejoined, "who has done more than any other to earn my distrust and dislike, it is you. Even last night, during the great raid, you were helping your master."

"Naturally," he admitted. "I am, as you have doubtless opined, a wolf. Life, however, is purely a matter of self-interest, with you as with myself. I should imagine, you happen to be on one side and I on the other, but we may still be honorable opponents."

I came very near losing my temper then.

"If you want my opinion of you," I said, "it is that you're a rascal. That's the first thing I have to say. The second is this: If you want anything from me, you'll open the way to negotiations by telling me what has become of Miss Essiter."

"Ah," he remonstrated, "that is not my affair."

I moved my chair a little closer to his.

"You were the person who planned her abduction," I reminded him. "I rather think that, since you are here, and not at my invitation, it will become very necessary for you to tell me, unless you want to be choked where you sit."

He waved me away. I will do him the credit to acknowledge that he did not look the least afraid.

"It is true," he confessed, "that I was concerned in the abduction of Miss Essiter, but you see, Major, we both act under orders. I was acting under orders from my chief, and you from yours. I had to obey. I am here and in your power. You can throttle me in an hour's time just as well as now. Supposing we let the matter drop while I disclose the reason for my visit."

"Well, get on with it," I conceded. "I am an ambassador," Mr. Leopold confessed. "To tell you the truth, that is rather where I come in. I am the bearer of a message from our friend."

"From Joseph?"

Leopold shrugged his shoulders. "Why mention names? He has tried half a dozen. The one that amuses him most is the pseudonym he adopted that night at Claridge's—'Mr. X.' You can understand that, during the last month, he has not been too anxious for the name of Mr. Ruben Sans to appear in the newspapers. Shall

WILLIAM-KELLY WEDDING IS SOLEMNIZED AT DECATUR

Popular Couple Marries At Quiet Home Ceremony

DECATUR, Ga., March 7.—The wedding of Miss Katherine Rochelle Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Williams, of Decatur, to William Kelly, Jr., took place at 6:30 o'clock last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Novia W. Williams, 485 S. Candler street, Decatur. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Wallace Rogers, well-known Methodist minister, before an improvised altar of palms with seven-branched candelabra on either side holding burning tapers. A floor basket of Easter lilies was placed in the foreground. Miss Louise Estelle Dwyer sang "At Dawning" preceding the ceremony.

To the strains of the wedding march from "Lohengrin," played by Mrs. Lewis Barrett, the maid of honor, Miss Louise Williams, her sister's only attendant, entered wearing a gown of tan silk crepe with a tan hat of bako straw. Tann accessories and a shoulder corsage of Ophelia roses completed the costume.

The Lovely Bride.
The bride, who was met at the altar by the groom and Carl Balsley, his best man, entered with her father, Novia Williams, who gave her in marriage. She wore a blue silk ensemble, a Caroline model, with a bako straw hat to match, other accessories being white. She carried an arm bouquet of Ophelia roses and valley lilies.

Immediately after the ceremony an informal reception was held. Mrs. Novia Williams was crowned in black chiffon with a shoulder bouquet of Ophelia roses. Miss Maude Terry kept the bride's book. Others assisting were Miss Maude Terry and Mrs. Lewis Barrett. Following a bridal trip to Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Kelly will be at home at 800 Greenwood avenue, Atlanta.

'Beautiful Grills and Doorways' To Be Discussed by Mr. Skidmore

"Beautiful Grills and Doorways" will be the subject of the informal illustrated lecture to be delivered by Lewis Palmer Skidmore, director of the High Museum of Art, at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, at the museum, 1202 Peachtree street. Stereoscopic views of notable doorways of the world will be used to illustrate the talk, which will be one of the most interesting in the series given Sunday afternoon during the winter upon painting, sculpture and allied subjects. The talk will embrace wrought iron, wood, and bronze doorways which have been found of wide interest from an historical and artistic point of view.

The exhibit of the Georgia Association of Artists, which is on view in the auditorium gallery of the museum, is of interest. Among the Atlantans whose pictures are included in the collection are: Marjorie Conant Bush-Brown, Thomas Delbridge, Cornelia Cunningham and Mrs. Frances Lee Turner, of Emory University. Visitors to the museum Sunday will find among these 88 paintings by Georgians pencil sketches, oils, water colors, block prints and miniatures. Other Georgians included are Christopher Murphy, of Savannah, and Mrs. Maxfield Parrish, of St. Simons Island, who acted as judges of the collection; Edward S. # Cooking School To Be Held March 11-14

The Hapeville Woman's Club and Circle No. 2 of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church of Hapeville, will sponsor a cooking school, to be conducted in the church dining hall, the classes to begin March 11, continuing through March 14, and will be held from 10 until 12 o'clock each day. The Atlanta Gas Light Company is giving the school and has issued 500 invitations to residents in the community.

Miss Cephalie Lewis, home service instructor of the company, will be in charge of the school, conducting classes and will give interesting lectures on "Home Making." Miss Lewis is an expert on cooking and home management, having had training in home economics at Columbia University, she is an able and efficient instructor. For a number of years she was home service director of the Augusta Gas Company, and for the past five years has been director of home service work for the eastern division, Central Public Service, including five states, and still in charge of this work in connection with the Atlanta Gas Company. Miss Lewis is a former resident of Hapeville and it is hoped there will be a large attendance in co-operation with her.

There will be a charge of $1 for entrance into the classes, the proceeds to be equally divided between the club and the W. M. S. as a fund for their needs.

The organizations will present attractive prizes each day and refreshments will be served after the demonstrations. Anyone wishing further information may call Mrs. Raymond Cathy, president of club, at Fairfax 2822-W, or Mrs. C. H. Pinner, W. S. man of Circle No. 2, W. M. S., Fairfax 1053.

Hoover Praises Work Of Interracial Body

President Hoover regards the work of the southern commission on interracial co-operation as "a sane, simple and sensible plan, according to a recent letter addressed by the president to Dr. R. R. Moton, who is heading a national campaign for a fund of $1,360,000 to finance the commission's work for the ensuing 10 years. President Hoover's letter follows:

"I have been greatly impressed by the constructive work of the commission on interracial co-operation. The solution of all conflict is that men and women of good-will shall search and find the areas where we can co-operate, and thus minimize differences. That is the sane, simple and sensible plan of the commission. It is of real national importance. I trust it will have the widest support."

The national committee of 60 which is conducting the campaign in behalf of the commission has opened headquarters in New York and announces that encouraging returns are coming in. The officers of the committee are: Chairman, Dr. R. R. Moton; treasurer, Dr. George Foster Peabody; chairman of executive committee, Henry S. Bowers; assistant treasurer, Daniel W. Armstrong. The fund which is sought is not to be an endowment fund, it is stated, since the purpose of the commission is not to perpetuate itself, but as quickly as possible to bring about conditions which will make its continuance unnecessary.

The Story of the World War The Russian Provisional Government and the 'Soviet'

MANY OF THE RUSSIAN SOCIALISTS HELD "MODERATE" VIEWS, BUT THE SOVIET WAS LARGELY INFLUENCED BY A VERY ACTIVE, "RADICAL" FACTION (THE SO-CALLED "BOLSHEVIKI") THAT WISHED TO CONVERT THE REVOLUTION INTO A WAR AGAINST "CAPITAL" AND MAKE RUSSIA A COMMUNIST STATE AT ONCE.

IN THE VAST RURAL DISTRICTS THE PEASANTS FORMED LOCAL COUNCILS OR "SOVIETS". THEY ROSE AGAINST THE PRIVATE PROPRIETORS, AND BEGAN DRIVING OUT THE LAND OWNERS AND DIVIDING ESTATES AND FARMS AMONG THEMSELVES. THE BOLSHEVIKS STEADILY GREW IN POWER.

Seminary Sunday To Be Observed By Presbyterians

Sunday will be observed as Seminary Sunday in many of the Presbyterian churches of Greater Atlanta. In most of the churches the pastor will preach on the subject of recruiting and training men for the work of preaching the gospel, but some of the churches will have visiting speakers to assist in the observance.

Attention will be called to the fact that Columbia seminary is more than 100 years old and has trained more than 1,000 men for the preaching of the gospel, among them some of the most distinguished ministers of their generation. The list includes Dr. Thomas Goulding, Dr. George Howe, Dr. Aaron W. Leland, Dr. Charles Colcock Jones, Dr. Benjamin Morgan Palmer, Dr. James Woodrow, Dr. James Henry Thornwell, Dr. William S. Plumer, Dr. Joseph R. Wilson, Dr. John L. Girardeau and many others.

Five years ago Columbia Theological seminary was re-established on Georgia soil and located at Decatur. The seminary had its beginning at Lexington, Ga., in 1828. It was moved to Columbia, S. C., in January, 1830. After more than 100 years in South Carolina the seminary was brought back to the synod of Georgia. At the morning service Sunday Dr. Richard T. Gillespie, president of the seminary, will preach at Westminster Presbyterian church; Dr. Hunter B. Blakey, Jr., at Inman Park Presbyterian church; Dr. William C. Robinson, at East Point church; Dr. S. W. McGill, of Louisville, Ky., at

BRICKLAYER IS KILLED IN FIFTY-FOOT PLUNGE

Plunging 50 feet from a scaffold on which he was working at the new Union station building shortly before 10 o'clock Friday morning, George Queen, 32, a bricklayer, of 451 Marshall street, Decatur, was injured fatally, dying at a private hospital an hour later.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, probably from the residence, with interment in Decatur cemetery, it was announced by A. S. Turner, mortician in charge.

The bricklayer, a brother of Roy Queen, foreman in charge of masonry work on the construction project, was laying brick near the top of the building, according to fellow workers, who witnessed the accident, when he apparently lost his balance on the slippery scaffold and fell to the Fairlee street level below.

Surviving him are his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Queen; five brothers, Roy, Gus, Maurice, Paul and Harry; and one sister, Mrs. Ruby Lee Boyer, of Birmingham.

'Graft' Defendants Seek City Records

At least two of the eight municipal officials indicted by Fulton county grand jury in connection with the probe of alleged graft are facing difficulty in preparation of defense cases, it was learned Friday.

Activities of the new grand jury in calling for numerous borough records are responsible for this.

Councilman William E. Saunders, of the twelfth ward, and City Purchasing Agent William P. Price declared Friday that they have men at the courthouse making copies of the original records in the effort to establish their innocence.

Duces tecum subpoenas have been served on virtually every department of the municipal government, calling for masses of records and other data which the various divisions keep. These are being kept at the courthouse while the officials are examining them. It is these records which those accused by the grand jury must have, it was said.

New Sifting Basin Is Needed by City

Need of a new sifting basin at the Atlanta waterworks was stressed Friday by Alderman Claude Ashley, chairman of the water committee of council. Cost of the equipment is estimated at $500. The department is now engaged in cleaning the main intakes at the pumping stations of about 500 tons of mud.

Although the equipment is expensive it would save thousands of dollars annually in fuel costs and in the cleaning processes which must be gone through several times a year, Mr. Ashley and W. Zode Smith, superintendent of waterworks, declare.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

FARMER BROWN'S BOY FINDS A PRIZE.

By Thornton W. Burgess.

Who knows just how to use his eyes Will seldom lack for a surprise.

—Farmer Brown's Boy.

Farmer Brown's Boy, with Bowser the Hound and Flip the Terrier, was out for a walk. He had gone through the Old Orchard to the edge of the Green Forest and then had turned to follow the edge of the Green Forest, keeping just outside of it. Now, right along the edge of the Green Forest grew bushes of various kinds, some of them quite tall. In places there were bramble tangles. In other places young trees thrust their way up through the bushes. You know, it was really the Green Forest trying to work its way out onto the Green Meadows.

The eyes of Farmer Brown's Boy are sharp. Not only are they sharp, but he has learned how to use them. He knows how to see things. He knows what to look for and where to look. So there is not a great deal that he misses. He knew that in those bushes he might find the cocoons of certain big moths. So as he went along he kept a sharp eye out for these cocoons. On a young wild cherry tree he found a number. They looked like rolled, dried leaves.

So it was that presently ahead of him he noticed a big, gray object in one of the bushes. It seemed to be just a little higher than his head. It was just the color of the old fence rails. He knew right away what it was. He remembered that last summer he had seen it there when he was looking for birds' nests, but that it had been very small then. It is not at that particular place—since last summer, and so he had forgotten all about this thing.

"My goodness!" exclaimed Farmer Brown's Boy. "Those bald-faced hornets certainly did build a big nest. I must have a look at that!"

Now, hornets are really wasps, you know, and this nest toward which Farmer Brown's Boy was hurrying was like a great, gray globe made of a sort of gray paper, which the wasps themselves had made. It had been their summer home. It was made of several layers of this paper material. The wasps had made this paper by biting tiny fibers of dead wood from old rails and trees and buildings, and working this in their mouths until it had become this gray paper. Some of these nests are very wonderful. This

Hebrew School Plans Annual Purim Ball

Arrangements are being completed for the fortieth annual Purim ball to be held under auspices of the United Hebrew school Thursday night, March 13. In addition to the usual attractions of the affair this year will be featured by a fashion review and midnight show.

The annual ball is regarded as one of the high lights of the Purim holiday season by Atlanta Jews, and serves as a benefit for the United Hebrew school. Sam Gershon, this year's chairman of the ball, is assisted by R. Wilner, vice chairman; Joe Dorfman, chairman of the ticket committee; S. Goldstein, vice chairman; Mrs. Max Mendel, chairman of program committee; J. Meyersohn, secretary; Mrs. J. Faerman, chairman of the refreshments committee, and many others.

Christian Progress In China Stressed

"Christianity is the vital power marking many movements in China today," Bishop William Newman Ainsworth, of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, asserted in his address delivered at the annual missionary institute held by the Chandler School of Theology at Emory University Friday, Bishop Ainsworth, who has recently returned from a visit to the mission fields of his church located in the Orient, recalled incidents pertaining to his visit to the president of China, whose wife was a student at Wesleyan college when he was president of that institution.

Dr. O. E. Goddard, foreign secretary of the mission board; Dr. E. H. Rawlings, secretary of the mission board of the M. E. church, south, and Fletcher Brockman, noted Y. M. C. A. mission worker in China, were the speakers on the program attended not only by students but by many other church workers of Atlanta.

Seven out of the ten men who hold portfolios in the Chinese government today are allied with Christianity and are largely the products of Christian culture and graduates of Christian schools," the bishop stated. He said that the president, although not a Christian, was deeply interested in his wife's religion.

Slugging Club Will Carry Detroit's Hopes in American League

ROGELL PLUGS HOLE AT SHORT; PITCHING FAIR

Bucky Harris Believes His Club Will Be in Flag Fight.

By Alan Gould.

Associated Press Sports Writer.

TAMPA, Fla., March 7.—(AP)—The growing impression that the 1930 baseball season will see bigger and better base hits all along the line is not retarded in the slightest by an inspection of the clouting circus gathered under the banner of the Detroit Tigers.

"Since the palmy days of Cobb and Crawford, Detroit has prided itself in maintaining a high calibre of fence-busting talent. More Tigers have been crowned American league batting champions than all the rest of the clubs in the circuit combined."

"The Tiger pitching staff, a bit spotty last year, bears the stamp of marked improvement. The four veterans upon whom Harris places most reliance are Earl Whitehill, a brilliant southpaw; George Uhle, Owen Carroll and Vic Sorrell, all right-handers. Whitehill, who pitched the 1929 season in fine style, has picked up where he left off. He has developed an effective slow curve and change of pace."

"The outfield has been revamped to feature youth and speed, as well as the batting punch, now that Harry Heilmann has departed and Robert (Fats) Fothergill is slated for pinch-hitting duty. The prospective lineup is Elias Funk, a former Yankee, in center; John Stone in left and Roy Johnson in right. Harry Rice, if he rounds into form, may break into this combination, but not without a battle. Funk had a great year with Hollywood on the coast in 1929 and has hit a fast pace in camp. Stone,

SHIKAT FACES TOUGH FOE HERE

Jones, Who Meets Champion, Is One of Game's Most Rugged Men.

John Paul Jones, the hook scissors man, is rugged enough to endure all that Dick Shikat has to offer in the way of punishment. Shikat will hardly win the match by wearing Jones down to the point of exhaustion Wednesday night when they meet at the auditorium.

Physicians who have examined Jones have an explanation for his easy manner in the ring and for his apparent tirelessness. Atlanta fans who have seen him work have commented on his great chest. It is a barrel-like chest and this is one secret of his endurance. Jones has a great chest expansion and the lung space is large. The average man does not breathe with all the area of his lungs. Jones gets in a larger supply of oxygen than most men and this enables him to keep going.

Promoter Weber, who is bringing the champion here for the match, reports that there is general satisfaction over his selection of Jones as an opponent for Shikat, the man whose shoulders have never been pinned twice in one match. Jones is the only man who has ever won a fall from him. Atlanta fans have seen Jones work. They know he is good.

The ticket sale for the match Wednesday night is going along briskly. While most of the fans want to see the man who dominates the wrestling game, many are paying for tickets to see what La Dudley can do with Charley Fox.

Fox, the ten-minute egg from Cleveland, has won a tremendous following in Atlanta of the adverse sort. They all come to see him wrestle but they come because they want to see Fox defeated. His opponent, the Canadian champion, will be a tough one, Promoter Weber says, and promises the fans that Charley Fox will know he has been in a tough match whether he wins or loses.

Tickets for the Shikat-Jones, Fox-Dudley match are on sale at the Piedmont Hatters and at the Candler Building soda fountain. Ladies are admitted to any seat in the house for 75 cents. Weber calls the attention of the mat fans to the fact that tickets may be bought now and the box office jam avoided.

ages of the National league with a mark of .517 for 10 games last season, after reporting from Canton, of the Central league, where he batted .310 and drove out 41 home runs.

Signman was the first of the second detachment to arrive, but four more came into camp today. Don Hurst, first baseman, drove here, and infielder Berney Friberg and Outfielder Dennis Southern and Cy Williams reached town on the afternoon train. The absentees are Infielders Thompson, Thereseau and Whitney and Outfielders O'Donohue and Klein. Klein is a holdout, but the others are understood to be on the way. Captain Thompson has not signed, but is expected to do so upon arrival.

Worries Lessen.

WEST PALM BEACH, March 7. (UN)—With Sam Gray, star right-handed pitcher, here and working out, Manager Bill Killefer's worries over holdouts have been considerably reduced. George Blazek, Heinie Manush and Ralph Kress still remain outside the fold.

Opener.

FT. MYERS, Fla., Mar. 7.—(UN)—The Athletics play their first exhibition game of the season Saturday with the St. Louis Cardinals at Miami. Cold weather forced postponement of an intra-mural game today, the players going through a slight workout in batting and fielding. Grove, Quinn and Walberg will divide the pitching Saturday.

Don't Care.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 7. (UN)—Ready to open their exhibition season with the Giants at Houston tomorrow, White Sox officials declare that Art Shires will not be with the team, that they don't know when he will join them and that they don't care.

Kid Gives Confidence To Baseball Students

Professor Elberfeld Enthusiastic Over Progress Made by Class at Almand Park School.

By Ben Cothran.

Norman (Kid) Elberfeld, the Tabasco Kid himself, was sitting down in a chair, putting a new lace in his shoe. It was raining outside. Tubby Walton was cussing the rain and the Kid was talking about ball players and confidence.

The Elberfeld-Walton combine is operating a baseball school for young men at Almand Park. For the last two days there have been no field sessions and you know why. So Friday morning Kid hustled the portion of his 56 students who reported to him up on the third floor of Mr. Walton's eating establishment on Whitehall street and held a long three-hour skull drill.

The session was just over. Kid had told his eager young men to disperse and report at Almand park this morning if it wasn't raining.

"I can take a kid," said Elberfeld, "and if he'll listen to what I tell him and do what I tell him, I can make a ball player out of him. These kids go bumping around in professional ball and are kind of scared to ask too many questions because they're afraid they'll get kidded."

"We take these kids out here and show 'em how to play their positions. There are a thousand things they don't know but can learn easy if somebody will just take the time to show 'em. That's what they are paying me for. Their money for my show 'em."

CONFIDENCE.

"When you do that you give the young fellow confidence and that's what he needs. When he goes out there he has an idea about what he is supposed to do. He gets the fundamentals pounded into his noggin and the belief that he can do it and you have 75 per cent of the makings of a ball player."

"Why I remember when Babe Herman couldn't hit a low ball and that door over there. He used to get me up at 7 o'clock in the morning and get me to pitch to him. I'd throw 'em down there, show him how to hit 'em, and now look at him. Bing Miller couldn't hit a curve ball when the Crackerjacks turned him loose. I learned him. Show 'em how to shift those dogs up there at the plate and get 'em confident that they can hit, or play their position, and you've got 'em made. I have been fooling around in baseball a long time and know what I'm talking about."

The Kid is enthusiastic over the progress his young men have made. He says that all of them are showing improvement. Two students have already signed. The scouts of the small leagues are dropping around and talking to Elberfeld or Walton, or going out and watch the boys work.

DUMB PLAYS.

During the skull drill Friday morning Elberfeld told his students a lot of things. The dominating subject was how easy it is to pull a dumb trick on the ball field. The average player, especially if he has not been playing baseball for several years, is easily excited and will fall for any sort of ancient trick.

The Kid expounded for a long time on the hidden ball racket. They still catch them with it. "One time," said Kid, "Tubby Walton was playing in Birmingham, got a base knock and was standing up there on the bag when the first baseman began telling him where he could get a nice mess of pork chops. Tubby walked over, the umpire tagged him out, and Charley Fratt almost ran him out of the park. You got to keep your eyes open."

Kid is more than pleased with a young fellow from in Johnny Dobbs' country, around Ringgold. He has large hands. They are so large that when Elberfeld went out to the rubber to show him how to hold the ball the youngster had it in his hand and Kid couldn't find it. He had a habit of holding the ball in the palm of his hand and pushing it down to the plate. He had hit back out 21 high school players in one game throwing that way.

Elberfeld made him get his fingertips on the ball and it goes skipping down to the plate with a few twists and turns that make it hard to hit.

He is greatly interested in his baseball school, Kid Elberfeld. The boys all like him because he works hard and plays no favorites. He shows them how to do and makes them understand, which is very hard to do. It takes perseverance.

The school will continue for two or three weeks longer, until Kid reports to Springfield, in the Western association. Springfield is a farm of the St. Louis Cardinals and Elberfeld will manage the club this year. He is planning to take a couple, perhaps more, of his students with him when he goes.

A number of the youngsters will have jobs before they are through, because they are learning a lot from the Tabasco Kid.

TEBELL RESIGNS AS N. C. S. COACH

Wolfpack Mentor To Take Position at University of Virginia.

RALEIGH, N. C., March 7.—(AP) Coach G. K. (Gus) Tebell has submitted his resignation as head football and basketball coach at North Carolina State college to accept a position as baseball and basketball coach at the University of Virginia.

But he has been asked to reconsider his action.

Tebell offered his resignation to President E. C. Brooks, it was learned today from Dr. R. R. Sermon, athletic director of the college, but the president asked him to reconsider the action.

Tebell has been at North Carolina State since 1925. He is a member of the national basketball rules committee and is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin.

Driver Announces Tebell at Virginia.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., March 7.—(AP)—James G. Driver, athletic director, University of Virginia, announced today that Gustav Kenneth Tebell, head coach of football and basketball at North Carolina State college, who has submitted his resignation, would become head coach of basketball and baseball and assistant coach of football at Virginia.

Dobbs Is Anxious To Land Catcher

DOUGLAS, Ga., March 7.—Johnny Dobbs said tonight that he hoped to get his catcher deal completed soon. He is going after it immediately. If the one pending for an international league catcher isn't completed he will deal elsewhere.

No other deals are in prospect. Dobbs being satisfied with the material on hand for the time being. He intends to plaster a fine on those who report later than Monday unless they have a legitimate excuse.

a plug of tobacco and two or three collar buttons in."

Weirman was not a member of the colony, but simply signed a contract to play ball with them for a season.

"We had a lot of fun," he said. "The fellows with long hair would pull off their caps when they would make a hit and let their hair stream out behind. Before games we used to stand out in front of the stands in the small towns and comb our beards and hair. That brought in the crowd."

Mickey O'Brien, the trainer, introduced a new bath to most of the players here. To those suffering from unusually sore muscles he recommended a hot bath in which a pound of Epsom salts have been dissolved. It was an entire success. "Ordinary salt dissolved in water will help some," said O'Brien, "but Epsom salts in hot water will pull the soreness right out."

"Every trainer has some racket like that," said Elton Langford, the tall Texan. "I remember out on the coast one year there was a trainer who would fill up a tub with hot water into which he mixed bran flakes until the stuff was pretty thick. He would then put a player in there and keep him there for 20 minutes. It was worse than a Turkish bath, but believe me that took out soreness and helped Charley horses."

Ivy Wingo, the fox hunter from Norcross, is another who thinks the July hound is no good except for show purposes or short hunts.

"I like the Walker hound," said the big Cracker catcher, who was one of the party that went on the hunt for bobcats the other night, the big cats abounding in the territory about here.

"You'll find July hounds where they have gray fox that will run only a short time, but it takes a Walker to really drive a red fox."

The fish fry scheduled for tonight was called off on account of rain. It will be staged next week.

Dogs Work Well At Grand Junction

GRAND JUNCTION, Tenn., March 7.—(AP)—With the going heavy there was a mixture of the good and the bad in the work of the three dogs which ran today in the national championship field trials.

Arby Betty, setter, owned by Robert Herndon, Detroit, Mich., and handled by J. M. Avenet, paired with the pointer. The Coming Storm, ran alone in the forenoon, her bracing being out of form and withdrawn. In the first half hour of the three-hour heat Betty flushed two birds and failed to back on another occasion but after that settled down and finished with a score of seven perfectly handled birds and two singles.

VOL MANAGER IS OPTIMISTIC OVER CHANCES

Nashville Will Go to Barrier With Strong Club.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 7. (AP) Nashville is going to be in the thick of the fight from the opening gun. Manager Clarence Rowland, boss of the Vols, said today in commenting on prospects in the Southern association race this year.

There is no room for pessimism in Volmond, according to Rowland. He's to have 13 of last year's regulars scrambled in with 7 former Vols and some youngster recruits back and that, he believes, is quite sufficient for the flag contest.

UP IN RACE.

Last season, after May, the Vols played close to .800 ball, fighting from the bottom to the top of the heap on two occasions only to fall in the stretch by a margin of three games.

Six of those returning to the Volunteer lineup batted .300 or better last season. Two .300 sluggers—Jimmy Horn and "Shine" Cortazzo, were sent up to faster company but Rowland believes they will be back for further seasoning.

There are only three jobs open for recruits at present. Rowland, a pitcher, an infielder and an out-gardener.

Taking down his list of eligibles, Rowland selected Willie Moore, bought from Mobile, as his first string catcher. Beans Miner, of last year's club, is to be traded and Ernie Krueger, who caught the majority of the 1929 games, will aid Moore.

Four veteran hurlers are to return. George Milstead, Lefty Willis, Thad Campbell and George Boehler are the boys of '29 who will do duty on the hill. Then there are H. T. Bradley, of Canton; George Kirsch, ex-Nashville twirler; William Droll, of Independence, Kan.; Ted Walker, of Montgomery; Harry Bennett and others, numbering almost a dozen recruits to fill in.

FIELDERS OKAY.

Rowland is well fixed in the matter of infielders and outfielders. "Sunny" Jim Poole, who smashed the home record last season with 33, will be back at first. Jay Partridge returns to second, but the question of the other positions will remain unsettled until after the spring training season. Rowland and Ollie Marquardt play either the short field or third; Sylvester Simon, a recruit at third, and Joe Klugman, the veteran third baseman, are to decide the issue, of the two positions.

Risko, Campolo Are Re-Matched

NEW YORK, March 7.—(AP)—Johnny Risko, Cleveland boxer, agreed today to fight Victorio Campolo, Argentine giant, in a return match on the House of Calvary Cancer hospital charity card at Madison Square Garden March 24.

Campolo, who was considered "too big" for the plump mid-westerner by the New York state athletic commission, was able only to gain a draw with Risko when they met for the first time in the semi-final to the Sharkey-Scott fiasco at Miami, Fla., February 27. The Argentine already has agreed to the return bout. The match is scheduled for 10 rounds and replaces a middleweight title fight originally planned for that date between Mickey Walker and Rene De Vos.

'K. O.' Chaney, Murderous Puncher, Gave Dundee Worst Punch of His Career.

By Johnny Dundee.
(Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

George "K. O." Chaney, the most murderous puncher of them all, landed the hardest punch I ever was hit in my 19 years as a fighter. George did it at the old Garden, in New York, November 18, 1921, in the bout that made me the first world's junior lightweight champion.

Chaney had rolled up the most amazing record of knockouts in the history of the racket. He was a southpaw and he was lucky no one ever could reform him. He began trading wallops in 1910, a year before I did, so both of us were veterans at the time Tex Rickard created a new division for my benefit. "K. O." was an outstanding fighter, and I was kicking feathers, lightweights and welters, so there was nothing phony about Tex hanging up a championship belt.

Before that experience with Chaney I had met Willie Jackson in Philadelphia. He knocked me out, but he hit me too hard and I never knew I was hit. That's a laugh, but it's the truth. Then I fought Benny Leonard. Benny bumped me on the chin so hard that it rained a lump, but it only made me fight that much harder. Chaney gave me trouble all through the fight, and it looked for a while as if he would knock me out. That wasn't so funny, for I had taken a decision over him in Boston in June, and in July I had boxed him a no-decision match in Philadelphia.

At the start I reached George with jabs, which goes to show how much pep I had. Fighting a dangerous left-hander with jabs is supposed to be suicide.

In the third Chaney worked me around with my back on the ropes. Then it happened! He cracked me with his left on my chest bone, and I thought it had caved in. The stuffed glove couldn't have felt any harder if it had been a steel chisel. I kept a straight face and stalled as I never had before.

The bell relieved me a little, but not much. I felt that punch for two weeks after the fight. In the next round I did a lot of bluffing. In the fifth Chaney fouled me. He had done it several times before, and the referee disqualified him and gave me the fight.

Chaney could hit harder with a stuffed glove than a lot of fighters could with a slug.

BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN,
Associated Press Market Editor.

CHICAGO, March 7.—(AP)—Invoking of emergency rules which permit railroad truck delivery of grain on March contracts had a decidedly unsettling influence today on prices of all cereals. Largely as a result, corn and rye values tumbled down to fresh bottom quotations for the present crop, and forced wheat to lose advances. Earlier wheat, and other grain as well, had scored upturns, owing to a good deal of official notice that farm board auxiliaries will buy wheat to stock up any considerable decline in the wheat market.

Wheat closed nervous at the same as yesterday's finish to 1 cent a bushel lower. Corn closed 5-8 cent lower, oats varying from 1-4 cent to 1-4 cent and provisions showing 7-12 cent advance.

Liquidating sales of rye holdings came about chiefly from carload sales, but possibilities of rain displayed relative steadiness, receipts and country movement of oats being light.

Provisions showed themselves responsive to upturns in the value of hogs.

NEW YORK, March 7.—(AP)—The bull market appeared unconcerned to day over the failure of the Federal Reserve bank to announce a lower re-discount rate, and succeeded in pushing an assortment of amusement, food and manufacturing issues still higher,

but profit taking appeared in considerable volume late in the day and several leading issues closed slightly lower. The weighted price index of 90 leading shares was unchanged at the level of 138.5, indicating that numerous advances in smaller issues of stocks were balanced by the sagging of several of the larger issues.

The market's indifference to the advance further into new high ground yesterday was regarded by several professional traders as indicating that the market is successfully getting out of the trading range in which it has encountered such persistent resistance.

The index of 90 stocks at the peak level of 138.5 is the highest since the rally which carried to 131.5 at the end of October, after the first severe crash in which it touched 122.2.

The Handsell-Parker bill to provide for a national institute of health in the United States public health service, which passed the House last week. One provision of this bill is for the appropriation of funds for new buildings and laboratory equipment to be devoted to research. Another provision would authorize the public health service to receive unconditional gifts from individuals or organizations. A third provision would create a system of fellowship to provide scientific training for persons who are not employed or for working, as officers of the public health service, in educational or connected with the service in any other country where problems can be effectively worked on.

"In this line of work there is need for more scientists, opening a new field for women graduates trained in research," he declared. Dr. Herty said that the bill would be passed by congress.

A native of Milledgeville, Dr. Herty graduated from the University of Georgia in 1914, and spent 14 years at the University of
